Break Predicted For Viet-Paris

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, South Viet Nam's new military strong man, appealed today for Western support of his country's war against the Communists.

Ignoring French President Charles de Gaulle's proposal to neutralize Southeast Asia in a pact with Communist China, Khanh told the Saigon diplomatic corps he is confident the "Vietnamese people and the rest of the free world would continue material and moral support of the struggle against communism here."

Relations Strained
Although repetition of the French proposal at De Gaulle's news conference in Paris Friday drew no official comment, relations between France and South Viet Nam remained seriously strained. Some sources predicted a break.

After the champagne reception, Khanh, 36, told newsmen a decision on his country's relations with Paris would be "extremely difficult."

In a cryptic style reminiscent of De Gaulle himself, the strong man added: "We shall handle our enemies and the friends of our enemies in our own way."

Khanh was far more blunt Friday. About the time De Gaulle made his statement in Paris, Khanh accused the French leader of attempting to impose a brutalizing policy on South Viet Nam and of blatantly interfering in its affairs.

At the reception Khanh exchanged pleasantries with French Charge d'Affaires George Perruche and told him: "You are welcome with us today, but I hope all the world is aware of the North Vietnamese aggression."

Tho Is Staying
South Viet Nam's deposed premier, Nguyen Ngoc Tho, made a surprise appearance at the reception. Khanh said he would keep Tho in office until a new government is formed.

Tho, who has been in government continuously for 30 years, said he expects to return to private life in a week to 10 days.

Khanh said he will retain temporarily all ministers in a caretaker government except the generals arrested during the coup Wednesday for allegedly conspiring with the French to neutralize the country.

Khanh said the new regime will be "a government of national union, but we do not yet know what form it will take. It will be necessary to move slowly but surely in creating a new government."

To Check Units
He made it plain to the diplomats he was in charge. He said he would leave Saigon Monday for a tour of military units in the countryside as the first step in taking personal command of the war effort against the Viet Cong guerrillas.

After the other diplomats had left U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge remained behind and was overheard advising Khanh to seek popular support from his people.

"You should deliver a 'fire-side chat' as soon as possible," Lodge said. "And get it printed, distribute it as movies and so on, as soon as possible."

Albany Newsman Freed of Perjury On Jury Testimony
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A reporter for the Knickerbocker-Bocker News has been acquitted on a charge of second-degree perjury in relation to testimony he gave an Albany County Grand Jury.

A County Court Jury of 10 men and 2 women acquitted Edward Swietnicki Friday after deliberating about 4½ hours.

The charge against the 32-year-old newsman stemmed from testimony he gave a grand jury that inquired into allegations that Samuel Clark of Stamford, Conn., a Negro postal worker, was beaten in Albany in May 1962.

Swietnicki had written stories about the allegations for the Albany newspaper. The indictment charged that his testimony before the grand jury conflicted with that given by Robert G. Fichtenberg, his managing editor on the Hearst daily.

The Grand Jury is investigating the alleged beating.

Swietnicki formerly worked for the Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser.

Newspaper Guild to Hold 9th Page 1 Ball May 23
The ninth annual Page One Ball will be given by the Kingston Newspaper Guild Saturday, May 23 at the Wiltwyck Country Club. Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel, Guild president announced today.

Proceeds of the Page One Ball enables the Guild to support the YMCA summer program whereby needy area children spend two weeks each in the Ashokan camp, and to give the annual Harold L. Van Deusen memorial scholarship award, which is presented to a deserving journalism student graduating from Kingston High School.

The Guild also plans to present an art exhibit in the future and is currently sponsoring a Broadway play. The KNG as a new venture is planning an educational seminar on automation in August.

Format of the Page One Ball will be complete with Page One Awards to outstanding personalities in the fields of music or art, labor and sports in addition to journalism; crowning of a Page One Queen, Page One Souvenir Book, dinner and dancing. In conjunction with the Page One Ball announcement, the Guild president made the following appointments:

Edward A. Palladino, assistant Freeman Sports Editor, will serve as general chairman.

Yallum's Acquires Wall Street Site
Property at 317 Wall Street, presently housing Nugent's store, has been purchased by M. Yallum Sons Inc., it was announced today by Charles Yallum, president of the firm, which operates Yallum's Department store, 12 Broadway.

The transaction was closed Friday afternoon, a firm member said.

Reports that Yallum's had been considering the purchase of the Wall Street property had been circulated in the city the last several weeks, and on Jan. 3 a firm member denied a report to The Freeman that the property had been acquired.

Because of the Urban Redevelopment Authority's plan to build a new office building on the site, the firm had been considering the purchase of the property.

Cypriots Hold Out On Troops Greece, Turkey Accept Peace Plan

LONDON (AP)—Greece and Turkey informed Britain today they have accepted a U.S.-British plan to send an allied peace-keeping force to Cyprus. But the feuding Cypriots continued to hold out against the proposal.

Meets With Erkin
Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys announced the acceptance after receiving Turkish Foreign Minister Feridun Cemal Erkin.

"He came to inform us that the Turkish government has accepted the plan," Sandys said. "The Greeks have already accepted."

As he left, Erkin said "I hope this idea will materialize very soon and that peace and tranquility will return to Cyprus."

Boosts Sandys' Hand
Acceptance by the two governments — Atlantic Alliance partners estranged over the Cyprus dispute — helped strengthen Sandys' hand in trying to persuade the Greek and Turkish Cypriots to allow the allied force to police their turbulent east Mediterranean island.

The Turkish government announced its acceptance this morning in Ankara and Erkin's visit apparently as to formalize the decision.

Informed sources in Athens said Greece approved the plan after a four-hour emergency meeting of top cabinet ministers, military leaders and party heads summoned by caretaker Ioannis Paraskevopoulos.

The plan will be approved by the Greek Cypriot president, Archbishop Makarios. But Makarios has indicated he will veto it unless the force is answerable to the U.N. Security Council. The Western Allies are not likely to approve such a demand because this would give the Soviet Union a voice in the matter.

Different Objections
Turkish Cypriots at the London peace conference also have objected to the plan, but for different reasons. They claim the proposal would not permit reinforcement of Turkey's 650-man garrison stationed on Cyprus under a treaty.

It appeared the next step would be for Turkey and Greece to join the United States and Britain to present the plan formally to Makarios and Dr. Fazil Kutchuk, the Turkish-Cypriot vice president.

The U.S.-British plan, presented at the London conference Friday, would station a force of not less than 10,000 men from North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) countries on Cyprus. The United States would contribute 2,000 men.

Beside the United States and Britain, the peace-keeping force reportedly would come from Turkey, Greece, West Germany, Italy and possibly France, Britain, Turkey and Greece are the guarantors of the independence of Cyprus under the island's 1960 constitution and the agreements which made it independent.

The Turkish government announced approval in Ankara after three Cabinet sessions, which ended after midnight.

Under the U.S.-British plan, a neutral power will be asked to mediate the island's bitter intercommunal conflicts which have erupted into bloody clashes between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Few Dropoffs Reported at Local College

Dr. Dale B. Lake, president of Ulster County Community College, told The Freeman today that mid-year registration at the college reflected far less "drop-offs" than expected, particularly among full-time students.

He said that expected decrease was noted in part-time enrollment, but about 30 new students registered for full-time study. He said figures would not be available until registrations are completed.

Continue Next Week
Dr. Lake said that late registrations would continue each evening next week Monday through Thursday from 7 to 9. Regular registration at the college was held Thursday and Friday evenings and from 9:30 a. m. to this afternoon. He said a number of students called up indicating that bad weather and driving conditions prevented them from adhering to the registration schedule.

Meanwhile, Dr. Lake said that at a meeting of the administrative staff and faculty it was decided that no action would be taken to remove the cigarette machine from the college as a result of the recent U. S. surgeon general's report which indicated that smoking was harmful and a deterrent to health. However, he said, a college policy statement would be "prominently placed" on the cigarette vending machine informing students of that fact, and detailing major factors cited in the report.

Up to Individuals
Dr. Lake said students were informed that "We respect your right to make your own decisions" concerning smoking, "but we feel that you should also give the surgeon general's report your attention."

A policy statement at Orange County Community College, Middletown, is called for removal of the vending machines from that institution.

Experts Beam, Ranger 6 On It

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists were jubilant today that the camera-packed Ranger 6 spacecraft was heading directly to an area on the moon under consideration for future astronaut landings.

If all goes well, Ranger 6 should hit the moon at 4:24 a. m. EST Sunday.

Course Corrected
The spacecraft was launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., Wednesday. Its course was corrected in midflight early Thursday to aim it within a 150-mile-diameter circle on the flat plain known as Mare Tranquillitatis or the Sea of Tranquility.

In the last 10 minutes of flight, 900 miles before impact, six cameras aboard the spacecraft are supposed to start taking the first of more than 3,000 pictures.

The first photos, radioed in a steady stream to earth, should show surface areas 151,000 and 16,800-square miles, taken by two wide-angle cameras. Areas of 9,480 and 1,950 square miles are the targets of four narrow-angle cameras.

Closeup pictures, just before impact, should show about half a square mile. The wide-angle cameras are to take 117 pictures each, the narrow-angle cameras 714 each.

Ranger 6's target area was chosen so cameras would catch sharp shadow from slanting sun rays. The shadows will help scientists determine how rough or smooth the surface may be, vital information for spaceman landings.

The United States Apollo Project is scheduled to put a man on the moon by the end of the decade.

Nearly Perfect
The best previous moon pictures were from the Soviet Union's Lunik 3 in 1959. It shot 33-mm film, developed it, and radioed back about 30 pictures from distances between 43,498 and 43,755 miles from the moon.

Scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory, who built the Ranger series and are tracking and guiding No. 6, told newsmen Friday it appears the shot is nearly perfect. If it continues, a final course adjustment may not be necessary, they said.

Friday's midcourse correction — a 67-second thrust from a 50-pound thrust rocket engine — put Ranger 6 almost precisely on the beam. Otherwise, the vehicle would have passed 2,000 miles to the left of the moon and curved to within 600 miles of its backside.

George Power Killed Helping Remove Deer

299 Fatality Ulster County's Second, 2 Others Are Hurt in Local Mishaps

A New Paltz motorist's zeal to help another motorist cost him his life today.

Officials at St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie said George Power, 26, of New Paltz, died about 2:40 a. m. in the hospital, some eight hours after he was struck by a car on Route 299, about four miles out of the Ulster County community in the Town of Gardiner.

State Police at the Highland substation said that Power was struck after he had stopped his car to help another motorist, whose car had struck a deer, put the deer into the latter's car.

Helped Put Deer in Car
Trooper G. W. Zappalo said a car driven by Franklin Sahler, 31, of Ellenville, struck and killed a deer which had entered the highway from nearby woods. Power happened along in his own car and stopped ahead of the Sahler vehicle. He then went to assist Sahler put the deer into Sahler's car, the trooper said.

As Power was returning to his parked car, a car driven by Gordon Krajna, 23, of Tillsen, struck Power and hurled him against Sahler's car.

Was Star Athlete
Dr. Chester Golding, Dutchess County medical examiner, gave a verdict of accidental death due to internal injuries.

Mr. Power, 25, of 28 Church Street, New Paltz, the son of George B. and Theresa Brescia Power, was born in Poughkeepsie. He was educated in the New Paltz schools and was graduated from New Paltz Central High School in 1957, where he was a star athlete. He played varsity football, basketball, baseball and was on the track team. He served with the U. S. Army in Germany from September 1957 to September 1959 when he entered Dutchess County Community College in Poughkeepsie. He ran on the cross country team at the college.

Since October 1961, Mr. Power had been associated with the Universal C.I.T. Credit Corp. of Poughkeepsie. He was married on June 15, 1962, to Barbara L. Power, daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Power, of Holy Trinity Church in that city.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City and the Board of Higher Education, which administers the seven colleges of the City University in that city, have adamantly opposed ending of the 117-year-old policy of free education for full-time students in the four-year colleges.

Mayor Wagner has also pledged to end tuition for full-time students in the two-year community colleges in the city next September.

NASA Favors Boston Area Over N. Y. for New Site
WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has recommended that a new $50-million electronic research center be located in the Greater Boston area.

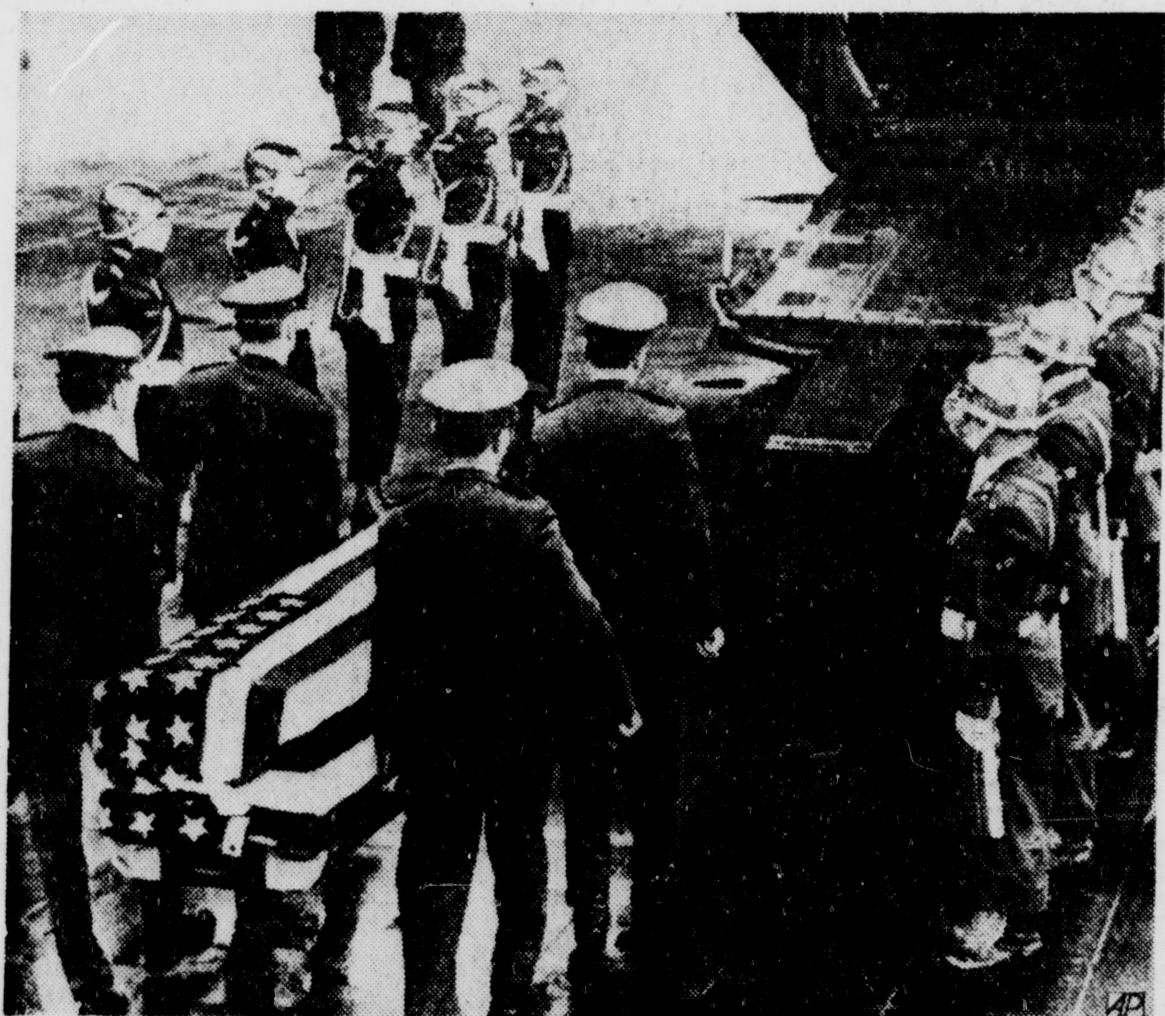

James E. Webb, NASA administrator, made the recommendation Friday in an official report to Congress.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Harvard University, virtually within a stone's throw of one another provide a basic core of the highest quality of advanced research, scholarship and training in the scientific fields of primary interest," Webb said.

He said Boston ranked second to New York in a NASA survey conducted to determine a site for the proposed center.

"But the New York resources are so scattered that it does not seem realistic to consider them as a single unit," Webb said.

NP Students Out to Aid Tuition Move

Despite the inclement weather, more than 1,000 members of the Student Government at the State University College of Education at New Paltz, were scheduled to participate in a march in support of a bill which would continue free tuition.

Jeffrey Callister, president of the Student Senate, told The Freeman this morning that the approved march of students was decided by the Student Government in an effort to "influence" local legislators to support the free tuition legislation, which is now in committee.

Urge State Support

Callister said area legislators are urged to work to have the bill taken out of committee and discussed on the floor of the Senate and Assembly in Albany.

Leaders of the movement at the New Paltz college in addition to Callister include Ralph Gabrielli, head of the Supreme Judicial Council of the Student Government; Dottie Donohue, president of the executive branch of the SGA, Al Angel, head of the tuition committee and Gary White.

"The march was planned to emphasize the opposition and dislike by the students to the proposed discontinuance of free tuition," Callister said. "We also want to influence the local legislators to vote to take the bill out of committee and discuss it on the floor."

Callister stated the march was scheduled to start on the college campus at 12:30 p. m. today, and proceed through the streets of New Paltz, entering the village at about 1 p. m. and ending in the vicinity of the Empire Market.

The Student Government president said that most of the State University Colleges of Education in the state, including Albany, Oswego, Potsdam, Plattsburgh and Oneonta and all the City Colleges in New York City, are conducting similar marches to bolster the students support in the move for free tuition.

Wagner Gives Support

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City and the Board of Higher Education, which administers the seven colleges of the City University in that city, have adamantly opposed ending of the 117-year-old policy of free education for full-time students in the four-year colleges.

He said Boston ranked second to New York in a NASA survey conducted to determine a site for the proposed center.

"But the New York resources are so scattered that it does not seem realistic to consider them as a single unit," Webb said.

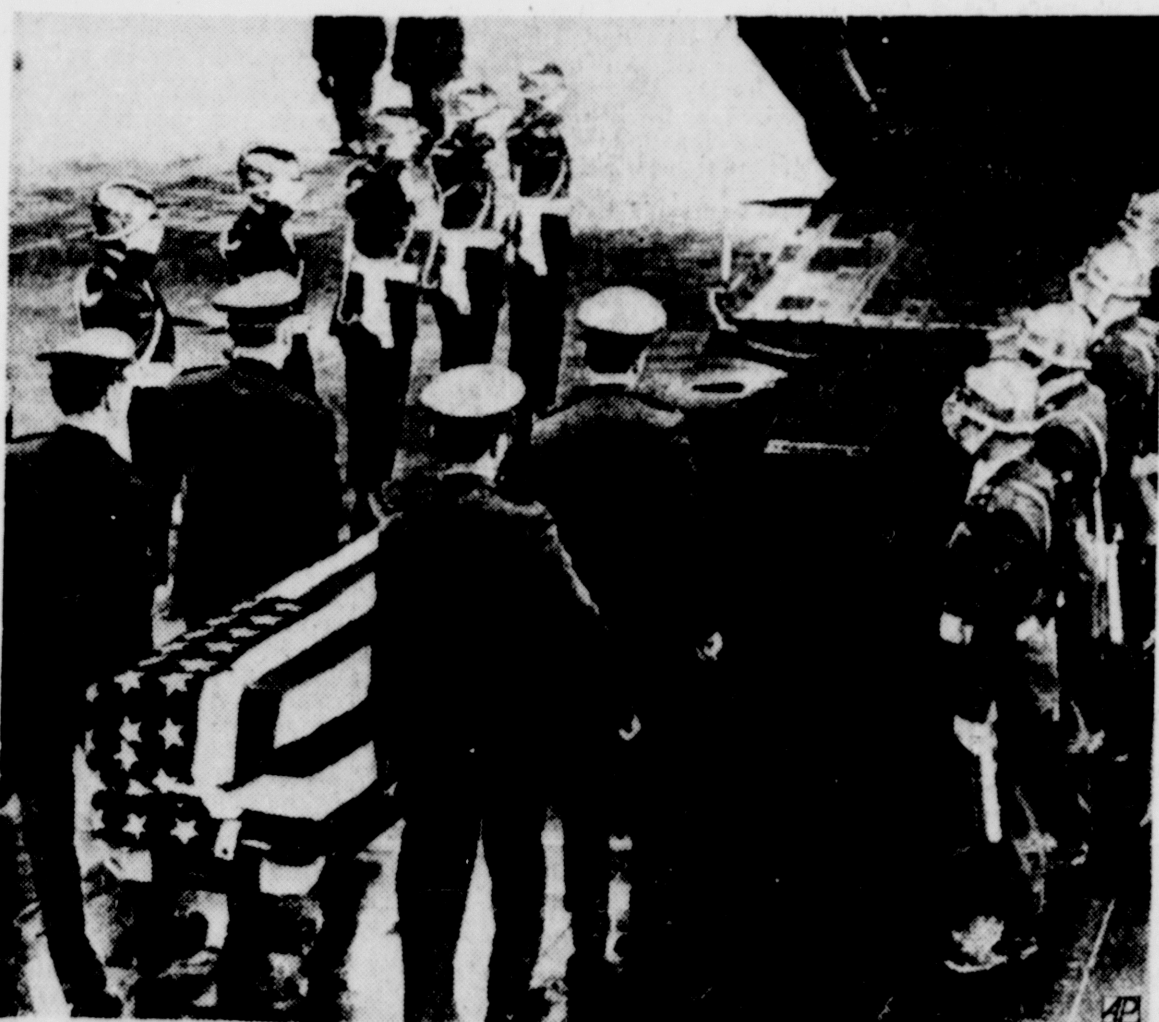

Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating and Rep. Alexander Pirnie, New York

Republicans, expressed disappointment over the selection of the Boston area.

They proposed as an alternative that NASA and the Air Force consider the possibility of locating NASA's facilities at Hanscom Air Force Base, Bedford, Mass., and transferring Hanscom's activities to Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome, N.Y.

They said work similar to that being done at Hanscom now is being performed at the Rome Air Development Center at Griffiss.

In a letter to Webb the congressmen said: "Since Hanscom Air Force Base facilities, with little modification, would meet your needs and save in the neighborhood of $50 million, and since Griffiss Air Force Base facilities could meet the needs of the electronic systems division with little modification, we believe it is very much in the national interest for this situation to be thoroughly coordinated between Air Force and NASA officials."

AIRMAN'S BODY RETURNED TO WEST—U.S. soldiers at West Berlin's Tempelhof airport carry coffin of one of three U.S. Air Force officers killed when their plane was shot down over Communist East Germany. The bodies were returned to Tempelhof where a brief ceremony was held before they were placed on a U.S. Air Force transport to be flown to Wiesbaden, West Germany. (AP Wirephoto)

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

The hardy adventurers who gave England her foothold in America at Jamestown in 1607 were men of faith that led them across the ocean to an unknown, hostile land. They sustained their faith through prayer at every opportunity; prayers of Thanksgiving; prayers for guidance and strength.

At James Fort, the first settlement, there were always guards on watch for an Indian attack. At the changing of the guard for each watch, a prayer was said. It has been handed down to us just as the captain of the guards repeated it each time:

"We know, O Lord, we have the devil and all the gates of Hell against us, but if Thou O Lord be on our side, we care not who be against us. And seeing by Thy motion and work in our hearts, we have left our warm nest at home, and put our lives into Thy hands, principally to honor Thy name and advance the Kingdom of Thy Son, Lord give us leave to commit our lives into Thy hands, Amen."

Trinity Church Reports Given at Annual Meeting

Reports of the past year's accomplishments were given at the annual meeting of Trinity Methodist church, Wurts and Hunter Streets, this week. The Rev. George P. Werner, Kingston district superintendent.

A dessert and social hour preceded the meeting at which time new members who had joined the church during the year were introduced. The WSCS with Mrs. F. W. Thompson Sr. in charge served refreshments.

A yearbook had been prepared for the meeting by the pastor containing summaries of the past year's activities by each organization. Copies were given to each one attending the annual meeting.

The Rev. Mr. Werner opened the meeting with a slide program showing the various churches of the Kingston District and highlighting the various building projects that are now being completed throughout the district.

Mission Contribution — The Rev. Roy Hassel, pastor of the Trinity-South Rondout parish, reported that the parish had contributed over $6,100 to the missionary program of the Methodist Church, the Conference Crusade and Conference benevolences.

The total expenditures for the parish came to nearly $23,000. Included in this total is the cost of the refurbishing program completed in the Trinity sanctuary and the purchase of 100 new folding chairs.

Sixteen new members were received into the fellowship of Trinity with a net gain in membership of 10. The present membership of Trinity now stands at 250 while South Rondout has 15 members.

The church school and youth fellowship areas have shown increased activity as have the various commissions and committees.

Receive Praise — Charles Shults, parish lay leader, extended his thanks for the work done by all chorists and also to the work of the redecorating committee and especially to the supervisory work of John Short, chairman of the property committee.

The Rev. Mr. Werner praised both churches for the fine response each has given to the Conference Development Crusade by over-subscribing their initial asks.

The nominating committee report was accepted and the new treasurer of the Trinity Church, John Waples, was introduced.

Richard Lowe, former treasurer is now serving as church school superintendent. Mr. Lowe was commended for his service in his former position as treasurer.

The meeting concluded with a closing prayer by the pastor.

Unitarian Leader Is Feted on Retirement

The Rev. Dr. Dale DeWitt, for 25 years the personification of liberal religion in the Middle Atlantic states, was honored Friday by more than 250 members of his "parish" extending from Connecticut and Upstate New York to Northern Virginia. A banquet in New York City marked Dr. DeWitt's retirement in January from his position as regional executive in the Unitarian Universalist Association.

The main speaker at the event at the Unitarian Church of All Souls was the Rev. Dr. Ernest W. Kuebler, former head of the Division of Education and executive vice president of the American Unitarian Association and for two years president of the International Association for Religious Freedom.

Mr. Lokhorst who has been pastor of the Port Ewen church since August, 1962, has been an active member of the council serving various committees. He succeeds the Rev. Roy Allan Hassel, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church.

Shriver Doubts V-P Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver says he doesn't think he's going to get the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

And, with a bow in the direction of brother-in-law Robert F. Kennedy, he says the attorney general would be a "terrific" choice.

Shriver's comments on one of Washington's favorite guessing games — President Johnson's likely running mate — were elicited by newsmen Friday after he told the House Foreign Affairs Committee he needs $115 million to run the Peace Corps the next fiscal year.

After the session, Shriver dropped by the White House to chat with Johnson and reports immediately began circulating that the President has decided to set up a new agency headed by Shriver to direct the administration's pledged war on poverty.

A comment from Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., that Johnson had indicated "someone like Sargent Shriver" should direct it gave substance to the reports.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

By Charles Culver, state veteran counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs, and John Tyler, director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 4 Hurley Avenue, Kingston. Office hours Monday through Friday 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

INSURANCE—World War 2 National Service Life Insurance or Post-Korea NSLI policyholders (except for RH) policies may add a total disability income rider to their policies at a small additional premium cost. Policyholders who become totally disabled from any cause before age 60 and while the TDIR clause is in effect will receive an income of $10 a month for each $1,000 of their NSLI which is in force. Payments under the disability income rider may begin after the insured has been totally disabled for six consecutive months and continue for the duration of the disability regardless of how long it lasts. No payment may be made for disabilities incurred after age 60 and no premium charge for this benefit is made after that date. The premium cost for the TDIR varies according to the insured's age, type of policy and its face amount. Payments under the disability income provision do not reduce the face amount of the NSLI policy payable at death. Premium payments, moreover, both on the basic NSLI policy and the disability rider, may be waived upon application by the insured for any period of total disability lasting longer than six months.

EDUCATION—A veteran of the Korean War who is on active military or naval duty with the U. S. Armed Forces may not take any type of educational training under the Korean GI Bill. Even though a serviceman meets all the eligibility requirements for training under the GI Bill, he is specifically prohibited by law for pursuing a training course under the Korean GI Bill as long as he is on active duty.

Doctors to Hear Leading Authority On Radioisotopes

A leading authority on radioisotope medical research will be the guest speaker at next Tuesday evening's meeting of the Medical Society of the County of Ulster.

Local physicians will have the opportunity to hear Paul Numerof, a Doctor of Science, who heads Radiopharmaceutical Services at the Squibb Institute for Medical Research.

Dr. Numerof, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Society of Nuclear Medicine, also serves in several important advisory roles for the federal government and World Health Organization. He is a member of the Current Panel, U. S. Pharmacopeia, Food and Drug Administration, and a member of the Committee on Standards, International Pharmacopeia, for the World Health Organization. A graduate of Temple University, he earned his Masters and Doctorate degrees at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, was awarded a Carnegie Fellowship, and taught at Drexel Institute of Technology, where he became assistant professor of chemistry.

Dr. Numerof will address members of the County Medical Society at 9 p. m., Tuesday evening, Feb. 4, at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Roy Hassel, pastor of the Trinity-South Rondout parish, reported that the parish had contributed over $6,100 to the missionary program of the Methodist Church, the Conference Crusade and Conference benevolences. The total expenditures for the parish came to nearly $23,000. Included in this total is the cost of the refurbishing program completed in the Trinity sanctuary and the purchase of 100 new folding chairs.

Sixteen new members were received into the fellowship of Trinity with a net gain in membership of 10. The present membership of Trinity now stands at 250 while South Rondout has 15 members.

The church school and youth fellowship areas have shown increased activity as have the various commissions and committees.

Receive Praise—Charles Shults, parish lay leader, extended his thanks for the work done by all chairmen and also to the work of the redecorating committee and especially to the supervisory work of John Short, chairman of the property committee.

The Rev. Mr. Werner praised both churches for the fine response each has given to the Conference Development Crusade by over-subscribing their initial askings.

The nominating committee report was accepted and the new treasurer of the Trinity Church, John Waples, was introduced. Richard Lowe, former treasurer is now serving as church school superintendent. Mr. Lowe was commended for his service in his former position as treasurer.

The meeting concluded with a closing prayer by the pastor.

Lenten Schedule Is Announced by Church Council

The schedule of community Lenten services has been announced by the Kingston Area Council of Churches.

Throughout the Lenten season Sunday evening services will be held in various churches at 7:30. On March 1 and 15 the young people will meet at the host church at 6:30 p. m. for a fellowship program. On the first Sunday of Lent, Feb. 16, young people will meet at St. James Methodist Church 6:30 p. m. for a union communion service and will then attend the service at the Fair Street Reformed Church.

Preacher for the first service at the Fair Street Church will be the Rev. Reginald T. Edwards, pastor of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. Other Sunday evening services will be as follows:

Feb. 23, Trinity Lutheran Church, the Rev. Sylvester Van Oort, pastor of the Rosendale Reformed Church; March 1, Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, the Rev. Chester O. Newton, pastor of the Franklin Street AME Zion Church; March 8, Old Dutch Church, the Rev. John H. Frenssen, pastor of Trinity Lutheran; March 15, First Baptist, the Rev. William J. McVey, pastor of First Presbyterian and March 22, Reformed Church of the Comforter, the Rev. Cecil L. McFarland, pastor of Port Ewen Methodist.

The traditional men's communion service and breakfast will be held 7 a. m. March 15 at Old Dutch Church.

Unitarian Leader Is Feted on Retirement

The Rev. Dr. Dale DeWitt, for 25 years the personification of liberal religion in the Middle Atlantic states, was honored Friday by more than 250 members of his "parish" extending from Connecticut and Upstate New York to Northern Virginia. A banquet in New York City marked Dr. DeWitt's retirement in January from his position as regional executive in the Unitarian Universalist Association.

The main speaker at the event at the Unitarian Church of All Souls was the Rev. Dr. Ernest W. Kuebler, former head of the Division of Education and executive vice president of the American Unitarian Association and for two years president of the International Association for Religious Freedom.

Shriver Doubts V-P Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver says he doesn't think he's going to get the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

And, with a bow in the direction of brother-in-law Robert F. Kennedy, he says the attorney general would be a "terrific" choice.

Shriver's comments on one of Washington's favorite guessing games — President Johnson's likely running mate—were elicited by newsmen Friday after he told the House Foreign Affairs Committee he needs $115 million to run the Peace Corps the next fiscal year.

After the session, Shriver dropped by the White House to chat with Johnson and reports immediately began circulating that the President has decided to set up a new agency headed by Shriver to direct the administration's pledged war on poverty.

A comment from Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., that Johnson had indicated "someone like Sargent Shriver" should direct it gave substance to the reports.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

INSURANCE—World War 2 National Service Life Insurance or Post-Korea NSLI policyholders (except for RH) policies may add a total disability income rider to their policies at a small additional premium cost. Policyholders who become totally disabled from any cause before age 60 and while the TDIR clause is in effect will receive an income of $10 a month for each $1,000 of their NSLI which is in force. Payments under the disability income rider may begin after the insured has been totally disabled for six consecutive months and continue for the duration of the disability regardless of how long it lasts. No payment may be made for disabilities incurred after age 60 and no premium charge for this benefit is made after that date. The premium cost for the TDIR varies according to the insured's age, type of policy and its face amount. Payments under the disability income provision do not reduce the face amount of the NSLI policy payable at death. Premium payments, moreover, both on the basic NSLI policy and the disability rider, may be waived upon application by the insured for any period of total disability lasting longer than six months.

EDUCATION—A veteran of the Korean War who is on active military or naval duty with the U. S. Armed Forces may not take any type of educational training under the Korean GI Bill. Even though a serviceman meets all the eligibility requirements for training under the GI Bill, he is specifically prohibited by law for pursuing a training course under the Korean GI Bill as long as he is on active duty.

Doctors to Hear Leading Authority On Radioisotopes

A leading authority on radioisotope medical research will be the guest speaker at next Tuesday evening's meeting of the Medical Society of the County of Ulster.

Local physicians will have the opportunity to hear Paul Numerof, a Doctor of Science, who heads Radiopharmaceutical Services at the Squibb Institute for Medical Research.

Dr. Numerof, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Society of Nuclear Medicine, also serves in several important advisory roles for the federal government and World Health Organization. He is a member of the Current Panel, U. S. Pharmacopoeia, Food and Drug Administration, and a member of the Committee on Standards Radioisotopes in Medicine, International Pharmacopoeia for the World Health Organization. A graduate of Temple University, he earned his Masters and Doctorate degrees at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, was awarded a Carnegie Fellowship, and taught at Drexel Institute of Technology, where he became assistant professor of chemistry.

Dr. Numerof will address members of the County Medical Society at 9 p. m., Tuesday evening, Feb. 4, at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

FREEDOMS ROLL-CALL

Freedoms Foundation Roll-Call message this year, "You Never Miss Freedom Until You Lose It," has special urgency in these days when most citizens take pretty much for granted the benefits we enjoy under our form of government.

Never having really faced the loss of freedom, most Americans probably cannot imagine what life is like without it. That however, would be no excuse should we, through lack of knowledge and appreciation of our heritage or ignorance of the aims and methods of our enemies, lose the precious freedom of the American Way.

Indeed, if our system is to survive at all, it will do so only through an informed and alert citizenry. To this end, Freedoms Roll-Call is dedicated.

Once a year at this time, Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge calls on all Americans to join with it in Freedoms Roll-Call. During this period, we are asked not only to think about the freedom we enjoy but also to give visible demonstration of how we value it and would preserve it against the attacks of those who seek to deprive us of it.

Every American is urged to pause at least once during the Freedoms Roll-Call period and consider the wisdom of its purpose.

Preserving American freedom is more than a phrase. It is a necessity and the duty of everyone who enjoys the system under which we live and prosper, in this, the greatest country on the face of the earth.

THE NARROW VIEW

When the president of a great corporation speaks out on matters of general public interest, his words receive respectful attention. This is sometimes more than their due, according to John W. Gardner, head of the Carnegie Corporation. He thinks that top executives understand their opposite number in other business, but often fail to comprehend the world around them.

The trouble is that their information too often comes to them after it has been "sampled, screened, condensed, compiled, coded, expressed in statistical form, spun into generalities, and crystallized into recommendations." This synthetic product often lacks any relation to first-hand experience.

Vance Packard, who has written much on propagandists in business and the social order, makes the same point. He cites the typical case of a leading business or financial figure. In his company, his contacts are mainly with subordinates whose utterances are apt to be governed by prudence. Instead of using public transportation, where he might meet some one outside of his usual circle, he either drives himself or has a chauffeur. His luncheon companions are almost invariably people of the same business layer as himself. Heretical ideas have no chance to enter his life.

Henry Ford the elder was a specific example of a genius in one field whose views about some other matters were notably unsound. He, and others equally narrow, might well consider the old adage, "Shoemaker, stick to your last."

DIAL 'C' FOR CONFUSION

Those people who are upset about having to memorize seven number just for a local telephone call ought to consider what their children and grandchildren will be up against when around-the-world calling becomes commonplace.

There are more than 140 million telephones in use in the world today (80 million in the U.S.), an increase of 16 per cent in the last three years. As more millions are added, the need for international dialing will begin to be important.

In 1961, representatives from every nation in the world met to form the Consultative Committee on International Telegraph and Telephone. One of the committee's acts was to recommend standardized

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
THE "AIR TRAVELER'S FRIEND" SPEAKS OUT

The trouble with Big Government is that when everything and everyone gets organized, things seem to cancel out in a welter of stultifying cross-purposes. There could be a change, however.

For example, we have President Lyndon Johnson naming Assistant Secretary of Labor Esther Peterson to serve as his special assistant for consumer affairs, with at least theoretical authority to break up log jams. This could be good news to a personable young crusader named David C. Quinn, a lawyer and former Assistant Attorney General of the State of New York who is President of the Airways Club. Mr. Quinn helped organize this group in 1960 to serve as "consumer spokesman" for air line passengers, hoping at the time that he might do for travel by air what the American Automobile Association has done for travel on the nation's highways. But Mr. Quinn, who is a licensed naval reserve pilot who flies DC 4s in his spare time, says he has found it difficult to get the air travel consumer's point of view across to the Federal Aviation Agency, which is supposed to have the traveler's interests at heart. He is now hoping that the appointment of Mrs. Peterson will enable him to put a clamp on the FAA, but, knowing the cross purposes of government when agency is piled on agency, he still retains some skepticism.

In his battle to represent the air traveler, Mr. Quinn has discovered the truth of that old saying, "the best is the enemy of the good." The FAA, he says, is organized to wait forever for "perfection." Mr. Quinn is quite prepared to champion air travel as it is now constituted as being much safer than automobile travel or rail travel. But the airlines have been victimized, he says, by something that has outpaced their ability to do good detective work at the airports. Every so often a murderer or a subversive character or someone bent on suicide succeeds in smuggling a bomb aboard a plane, and innocent people are killed.

According to Mr. Quinn, it would be possible, for an expenditure of $10,000 at each big commercial airport, to build detonation chambers through which each piece of luggage could be passed on its way to being stowed aboard a plane. An electromagnetic radiation field would penetrate the baggage and set off the electric detonator of any kind of bomb. No damage would be done to suitcases and bundles if they did not contain a detonator.

With both Mr. Quinn is that every time he brings the detonator chamber proposition to the attention of the Federal Aviation Agency, he is told about a "better idea." The "better" proposition is to pass a law compelling every manufacturer of dynamite in the country to put radioactive powder into their explosives. Then a man with a Geiger counter could test every piece of luggage before it went aboard a plane at an airport.

The drawback to this, as Mr. Quinn sees it, is that even if the FAA could get Congress to act it would force the government to police every factory manufacturing explosives. Furthermore, it would mean that workers in all the dynamite plants would be exposed to the hazards of radiation. And even if there could be 100 per cent inspection in every U. S. explosive company, there would still be a possibility that some madman or subversive, intent upon putting a bomb aboard a plane, might smuggle in some non-radioactive dynamite from overseas.

The arguments between the FAA and Mr. Quinn's Airways Club go on and on, and nobody apparently has the power to break the deadlock. And so Mr. Quinn is casting a hopeful eye in Mrs. Peterson's direction.

In a second crusade, Mr. Quinn's organization is calling for a study of jet aviation fuels. One of the club's members, Brigadier General J. M. Kenderline, a Deputy Director of Supply Operations for the U. S. Department of Defense, thinks the recent crash of a 707 near Elkton, Md., may have been caused by using so-called Type B fuel, which, under certain fueling conditions, can store static electricity. In a thunder storm this static electricity can be released by lightning, and can ignite vapors in the fuel tank. For safety's sake, General Kenderline recommends Type A jet fuel, which has no vapor pressure.

The Mature Parent

Present Adult Profiles

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

In a recent column you said that parents had a right to drink alcoholic liquors while denying this right to their teen-aged children. You are an evil influence. Parents should set an example to children not only by abstaining from liquor but also by refusing to have it in the home. How are children to learn right from wrong if parents don't choose it for them by setting them a good example? Your views should not be allowed to appear in public print.

ANSWER: You mistake my function. I am not a propagandist for (or against) temperance organizations. The law of this land grants adults the right to drink alcoholic liquors. Parents are entitled to exert this right if they want to just as you're entitled to refuse to exert it. It is not my business to pronounce on the "goodness" of it—or of you.

If I may say so, you appear to have missed the point of that column. That point was that parents set "examples" of appropriate adult behavior to children, not "examples" of appropriate childish behavior.

Because American parents have never got this straight, much confusion results. Confusing adult privileges with children's privileges, they permit teen-agers to drink because they drink. They allow them to keep late hours because they sometimes keep them. They indulge Bill's demand for a car because they have a car. They buy 10-year-olds permanent waves, dinner jackets, and television sets because they buy them for themselves. Instead of asserting their adult right to different experience from children's, American parents see adult experience and childhood experience as one and the same thing.

As a consequence, American children are getting less and less out of childhood and their parents less and less out of being grown up.

American parents need to think this "good example" business through. Parents who give children adult privileges and possessions create no more confusion than parents who deny themselves what their children can't have in an effort to "set a good example." Such parents logically are required to renounce their marriages, divorce their spouses, resign their jobs, sell their houses and return to the protection of their mommies and daddies.

That, dear reader, is the logical conclusion of a demand that adults set "examples" of good childish behavior.

'Now That Bobby Kennedy Has Left, Where Were We?'

Washington News

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The delegate cash register will start to ring up hard currency for Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater on Feb. 28 and 29 in Oklahoma and North Carolina.

These two states lead off the long parade of GOP state conventions in which a majority of delegates to the July 13 national convention will be chosen.

Goldwater's schedule calls for him to attend the Oklahoma convention Feb. 28 and the North Carolina affair the following day.

The Oklahoma meeting is considered a formality. By earlier official party action, the state's 22 votes have been in Barry's pocket for some months.

The North Carolina situation is not quite so neat. Leaders there say two or three of the 26 delegates may hold themselves uncommitted. The prospect represents Goldwater's slippage in the state since President Lyndon B. Johnson took over.

Another measure of slippage is the fact that North Carolina Young Republicans invited Pennsylvania's Gov. William Scranton to their Jan. 30-31 convention at Durham. He turned them down. But the invitation suggested more than casual curiosity.

GOLDWATER WILL PICK UP another easy 16 votes March 21 at the South Carolina convention.

Yet, despite these first easy collections, Goldwater is not particularly advantaged by the 1964 schedule layout of state conventions and primaries. In presidential politics as in baseball, the schedule can hurt you.

For instance, more than a fourth of the total of 1,308 national convention delegates will be chosen by state convention or state committee meetings in June, most of them after results of the all-important June 2 California primary are known.

DISCOUNT PART OF THIS TOTAL, since it includes New York's 92, set for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, and the 56 in Texas, a Goldwater bastion.

But if Goldwater lost the California primary and its 88 votes, sharp tremors would swiftly be felt in the conventions scheduled in the days immediately following in Colorado, New Mexico, Minnesota, Connecticut, Idaho, Washington, Utah, Montana and Virginia.

Since more than a half-dozen states still have not fixed their convention dates, the post-California June list may in the end be still greater.

Both the Goldwater and the Rockefeller camps now put California down as critical in the 1964 nomination fight.

The present prospect in the New Hampshire primary — and the schedule — underscores this judgement.

WITH OTHER ENTRIES FOGGING UP the Goldwater-Rockefeller confrontation, the New Hampshire verdict could prove indecisive.

One Goldwater man, basically optimistic, thinks the senator might win no more than 10 of the state's 14 delegates.

Against opposition the Goldwaterists argue is "going nowhere." After New Hampshire, Goldwater and Rockefeller may not meet head-on again until two months later — in the May 15 Oregon primary where a mere 18 votes are at stake. Here, too, other entries may muddy the waters.

Late decisions for face-to-face tests in District of Columbia, West Virginia and Maryland primaries in May would alter the picture somewhat. But even these would still leave California, far off in June, as the great watershed for 1964.

Town Clerk Catherine O'Leary advises residents of the Town of Rosendale who have not obtained their dog licenses for 1964, they must obtain these licenses before Feb. 10 which is the final date for obtaining licenses, before the delinquent list is referred to the courts for action. The date is specified by the state and cannot be extended.

Licenses may be obtained at the Town Clerk's Office Monday through Friday or by mail. When applying by mail a self-addressed stamped envelope must be enclosed. The town clerk's office will be open Saturday Feb. 1st and Saturday, Feb. 8, from 9:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

Airman Reassigned

Airman Third Class William H. Hendrickson of Tillson, is being reassigned to Homestead AFB, Fla., following his graduation from the technical training course for United States Air Force weapons mechanics, Lowry AFB, Calif.

Airman Hendrickson, son of Mrs. Evelyn S. Cashara of Tillson, was trained to load, maintain and inspect the weapons used in Air Force fighter and bomber aircraft.

The airman is a graduate of Kingston High School.

Events Scheduled

The regular monthly Communion Sunday for the St. Peter's Rosary Altar Society will be Sunday at the 9 a. m. Mass at St. Peter's Church, Rosendale. There will not be a meeting of the society after the Mass.

The regular monthly meeting of the Rosendale Town Board will be held Wednesday, Feb. 5 at 8 p. m. at the town clerk's office, Main Street, Rosendale.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I am still looking over Alfred Ronder's collection of photographs and pictures, some still remain a mystery to me, although I try to compare them with pictures in old books, like Picturesque Ulster. Wherever I find any information I paste a note on the back, for future reference. Perhaps someday, Mr. Ronder, president of the Savings and Loan Association of 267 Wall Street, will have some of these pictures on display in the bank. His collection well covers the boating industry of the World War I and II. For instance who remembers working on or near Navy Tug No. 62. There is a handsome picture of it, next to the, I think Washburn. The old and the new. Winter did not stop the boat building around here, so it seems, by the winter scenes.

There is a little pamphlet I received about the Senate House, built in 1676. It reads in part: "This Senate House, made of stone, dates from 1676 when Colonel Wessel Ten Broeck built it as his home in the tiny village of Esopus. Directly in front of it, just at the crest of the hill overlooking the lowlands, ran the line of stockades which enclosed the primitive settlement against the Indian attack. The property continued for several generations in the possession of the Ten Broeck and related Van Gaasbeck families until 1888, when it was purchased by the State as a historic shrine." Today (1964) it will look down upon a new shopping center where housewives will shop for bargains. No longer does the housewife make her own soap and candles, as they did in the Senate House kitchen back in the late 1600's.

What I liked about this pamphlet was the handsome reproduction of the portrait of John Vanderlyn of Kingston, when he was a seemingly young man. Item reads: "The Senate House Museum is noted for its gallery of paintings by John Vanderlyn, the Kingston-born protégé of Aaron Burr, who later was to become a member of the National Academy. After extensive study in Paris where he gained high honors, Vanderlyn returned to America to paint the portraits of the local residents as well as murals and landscapes."

They further write: "Vanderlyn's work steadily gaining in popular esteem as it becomes more widely known, brings thousands of art lovers to our Museum each year. He won the Napoleonic Gold Medal for his 'Marius amid the Ruins of Carthage', a copy of which hangs in the Senate House Museum. Here too will be found his magnificent, 'Niagara.'"

One of John Vanderlyn's most famous paintings is of course "The Landing of Columbus" in the Rotunda at the Capitol in Washington, D. C. Reproductions of this life-size painting appears all over the country before and on Columbus Day each year. It also was on the back of the old large five dollar bill, and on a stamp during the Columbian Exposition. This pamphlet was published through the courtesy of the Kingston Savings Bank at 273 Wall Street, uptown Kingston. That is the bank with the mural on the wall of Pike's historical clergical on the wall.

FREEDOMS ROLL-CALL

Freedoms Foundation Roll-Call message this year, "You Never Miss Freedom Until You Lose It," has special urgency in these days when most citizens take pretty much for granted the benefits we enjoy under our form of government.

Never having really faced the loss of freedom, most Americans probably cannot imagine what life is like without it. That however, would be no excuse should we, through lack of knowledge and appreciation of our heritage or ignorance of the aims and methods of our enemies, lose the precious freedom of the American Way.

Indeed, if our system is to survive at all, it will do so only through an informed and alert citizenry. To this end, Freedoms Roll-Call is dedicated.

Once a year at this time, Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge calls on all Americans to join with it in Freedoms Roll-Call. During this period, we are asked not only to think about the freedom we enjoy but also to give visible demonstration of how we value it and would preserve it against the attacks of those who seek to deprive us of it.

Every American is urged to pause at least once during the Freedoms Roll-Call period and consider the wisdom of its purpose.

Preserving American freedom is more than a phrase. It is a necessity and the duty of everyone who enjoys the system under which we live and prosper, in this, the greatest country on the face of the earth.

THE NARROW VIEW

When the president of a great corporation speaks out on matters of general public interest, his words receive respectful attention. This is sometimes more than their due, according to John W. Gardner, head of the Carnegie Corporation. He thinks that top executives understand their opposite number in other business, but often fail to comprehend the world around them.

The trouble is that their information too often comes to them after it has been "sampled, screened, condensed, compiled, coded, expressed in statistical form, spun into generalities, and crystallized into recommendations." This synthetic product often lacks any relation to first-hand experience.

Vance Packard, who has written much on propagandists in business and the social order, makes the same point. He cites the typical case of a leading business or financial figure. In his company, his contacts are mainly with subordinates whose utterances are apt to be governed by prudence. Instead of using public transportation, where he might meet some one outside of his usual circle, he either drives himself or has a chauffeur. His luncheon companions are almost invariably people of the same business layer as himself. Heretical ideas have no chance to enter his life.

Henry Ford the elder was a specific example of a genius in one field whose views about some other matters were notably unsound. He, and others equally narrow, might well consider the old adage, "Shoe-maker, stick to your last."

DIAL 'C' FOR CONFUSION

Those people who are upset about having to memorize seven number just for a local telephone call ought to consider what their children and grandchildren will be up against when around-the-world calling becomes commonplace.

There are more than 140 million telephones in use in the world today (80 million in the U.S.), an increase of 16 per cent in the last three years. As more millions are added, the need for international dialing will begin to be important.

In 1961, representatives from every nation in the world met to form the Consultative Committee on International Telegraph and Telephone. One of the committee's acts was to recommend standardized

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
THE "AIR TRAVELER'S FRIEND"
SPEAKS OUT

The trouble with Big Government is that when everything and everyone gets organized, things seem to cancel out in a welter of stultifying cross-purposes. There could be a change, however.

For example, we have President Lyndon Johnson naming Assistant Secretary of Labor Esther Peterson to serve as his special assistant for consumer affairs, with at least theoretical authority to break up log jams. This could be good news to a personable young crusader named David C. Quinn, a lawyer and former Assistant Attorney General of the State of New York who is President of the Airways Club. Mr. Quinn helped organize this group in 1960 to serve as "consumer spokesman" for air line passengers, hoping at the time that he might do for travel by air what the American Automobile Association has done for travel on the nation's highways. But Mr. Quinn, who is a licensed naval reserve pilot, who flies DC 4s in his spare time, says he has found it difficult to get the air travel consumer's point of view across to the Federal Aviation Agency, which is supposed to have the traveler's interests at heart. He is now hoping that the appointment of Mrs. Peterson will enable him to put a clamp on the FAA, but, knowing the cross purposes of government when agency is piled on agency, he still retains some skepticism.

In his battle to represent the air traveler, Mr. Quinn has discovered the truth of that old saying, "the best is the enemy of the good." The FAA, he says, is organized to wait forever for "perfection." Mr. Quinn is quite prepared to champion air travel as it is now constituted as being much safer than automobile travel or rail travel. But the airlines have been victimized, he says, by something that has outpaced their ability to do good detective work at the airports. Every so often a murderer or a subversive character or someone bent on suicide succeeds in smuggling a bomb aboard a plane, and innocent people are killed.

According to Mr. Quinn, it would be possible, for an expenditure of $10,000 at each big commercial airport, to build detonating chambers through which each piece of luggage could be passed on its way to being stowed aboard a plane. An electromagnetic radiation field would penetrate the baggage and set off the electric detonator of any kind of bomb. No damage would be done to suitcases and bundles if they did not contain a detonator.

What bothers Mr. Quinn is that every time he brings the detonator chamber proposition to the attention of the Federal Aviation Agency, he is told about a "better idea." The "better" proposition is to pass a law compelling every manufacturer of dynamite in the country to put radioactive powder into their explosives. Then a man with a Geiger counter could test every piece of luggage before it went aboard a plane at an airport.

The drawback to this, as Mr. Quinn sees it, is that even if the FAA could get Congress to act it would force the government to police every factory manufacturing explosives. Furthermore, it would mean that workers in all the dynamite plants would be exposed to the hazards of radiation. And even if there could be 100 per cent inspection in every U. S. explosive company, there would still be a possibility that some madman or subversive, intent upon putting a bomb aboard a plane, might smuggle in some non-radioactive dynamite from overseas.

The arguments between the FAA and Mr. Quinn's Airways Club go on and on, and nobody apparently has the power to break the deadlock. And so Mr. Quinn is casting a hopeful eye in Mrs. Esther Peterson's direction.

In a second crusade Mr. Quinn's organization is calling for a study of jet aviation fuels. One of the club's members, Brigadier General J. M. Kennerly, a Deputy Director of Supply Operations for the U. S. Department of Defense, thinks the recent crash of a 707 near Elkton, Md., may have been caused by using so-called Type B fuel, which, under certain fueling conditions, can store static electricity. In a thunder storm this static electricity can be released by lightning, and can ignite vapors in the fuel tank. For safety's sake, General Kennerly recommends Type A jet fuel, which has no vapor pressure.

The Mature Parent Present Adult Profiles

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

In a recent column you said that parents had a right to drink alcoholic liquors while denying this right to their teen-aged children. You are an evil influence. Parents should set an example to children not only by abstaining from liquor but also by refusing to have it in the home. How are children to learn right from wrong if parents don't choose it for them by setting them a good example? Your views should not be allowed to appear in public print.

ANSWER: You mistake my function. I am not a propagandist for (or against) temperance organizations. The law of this land grants adults the right to drink alcoholic liquors. Parents are entitled to exert this right if they want to just as you're entitled to refuse to exert it. It is not my business to pronounce on the "goodness" of it—or of you.

If I may say so, you appear to have missed the point of that column. That point was that parents set "examples" of appropriate adult behavior to children, not "examples" of appropriate childish behavior.

Because American parents have never got this straight, much confusion results. Confusing adult privileges with children's privileges, they permit teen-agers to drink because they drink. They allow them to keep late hours because they sometimes keep them. They indulge Bill's demand for a car because they have a car. They buy 10-year-olds permanent waves, dinner jackets, and television sets because they buy them for themselves. Instead of asserting their adult right to different experience from children's, American parents see adult experience and childhood experience as one and the same thing.

As a consequence, American children are getting less and less out of childhood and their parents less and less out of being grown up. American parents need to think this "good example" business through. Parents who give children adult privileges and possessions create no more confusion than parents who deny themselves what their children can't have in an effort to "set a good example." Such parents logically are required to renounce their marriages, divorce their spouses, resign their jobs, sell their houses and return to the protection of their mommies and daddies.

That, dear reader, is the logical conclusion of a demand that adults set "examples" of good childish behavior.

'Now That Bobby Kennedy Has Left, Where Were We?'

Washington News

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The delegate cash register will start to ring up hard currency for Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater on Feb. 28 and 29 in Oklahoma and North Carolina.

These two states lead off the long parade of GOP state conventions in which a majority of delegates to the July 13 national convention will be chosen.

Goldwater's schedule calls for him to attend the Oklahoma convention Feb. 28 and the North Carolina affair the following day.

The Oklahoma meeting is considered a formality. By earlier official party action, the state's 22 votes have been in Barry's pocket for some months.

The North Carolina situation is not quite so neat. Leaders there say two or three of the 26 delegates may hold themselves uncommitted. The prospect represents Goldwater's slippage in the state since President Lyndon B. Johnson took over.

Another measure of slippage is the fact that North Carolina Young Republicans invited Pennsylvania's Gov. William Scranton to their Jan. 30-31 convention at Durham. He turned them down. But the invitation suggested more than casual curiosity.

GOLDWATER WILL PICK UP another easy 16 votes March 21 at the South Carolina convention.

Yet, despite these first easy collections, Goldwater is not particularly advantaged by the 1964 schedule layout of state conventions and primaries. In presidential politics as in baseball, the schedule can hurt you.

For instance, more than a fourth of the total of 1,308 national convention delegates will be chosen by state convention or state committee meetings in June, most of them after results of the all-important June 2 California primary are known.

DISCOUNT PART OF THIS TOTAL, since it includes New York's 92, set for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, and the 56 in Texas, a Goldwater bastion.

But if Goldwater lost the California primary and its 88 votes, sharp tremors would swiftly be felt in the conventions scheduled in the days immediately following in Colorado, New Mexico, Minnesota, Connecticut, Idaho, Washington, Utah, Montana and Virginia.

Since more than a half-dozen states still have not fixed their convention dates, the post-California June list may in the end be still greater.

Both the Goldwater and the Rockefeller camps now put California down as critical in the 1964 nomination fight.

The present prospect in the New Hampshire primary — and the schedule — underscores this judgement.

WITH OTHER ENTRIES FOGGING UP the Goldwater-Rockefeller confrontation, the New Hampshire verdict could prove decisive.

One Goldwater man, basically optimistic, thinks the senator might win no more than 10 of the state's 14 delegates — against opposition the Goldwaterites argue is "going nowhere."

After New Hampshire, Goldwater and Rockefeller may not meet head-on again until two months later — in the May 15 Oregon primary where a mere 18 votes are at stake. Here, too, other entries may muddy the waters.

Late decisions for face-to-face tests in District of Columbia, West Virginia and Maryland primaries in May would alter the picture somewhat. But even these would still leave California, far off in June, as the great watershed for 1964.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I am still looking over Alfred Ronder's collection of photographs and pictures, some still remain a mystery to me, although I try to compare them with pictures in old books, like Picturesque Ulster. Wherever I find any information I paste a note on the back, for future reference. Perhaps someday, Mr. Ronder, president of the Savings and Loan Association of 267 Wall Street, will have some of these pictures on display in the bank. His collection well covers the boating industry of the World War I and II. For instance who remembers working on or near Navy Tug No. 62. There is a handsome picture of it, next to the I think Washburn. The old and the new. Winter did not stop the boat building around here, so it seems, by the winter scenes.

There is a little pamphlet I received about the Senate House, built in 1676. It reads in part: "This Senate House, made of stone, dates from 1676 when Colonel Wessel Ten Broeck built it as his home in the tiny village of Esopus. Directly in front of it, just at the crest of the hill overlooking the lowlands, ran the line of stockades which enclosed the primitive settlement against the Indian attack. The property continued for several generations in the possession of the Ten Broeck and related Van Gaasbeek families until 1888, when it was purchased by the State as a historic shrine." Today (1964) it will look down upon a new shopping center, where housewives will shop for bargains. No longer does the housewife make her own soap and candles, as they did in the Senate House kitchen back in the late 1600's.

What I liked about this pamphlet was the handsome reproduction of the portrait of John Vanderlyn of Kingston, when he was a seemingly young man. Item reads: "The Senate House Museum is noted for its gallery of paintings by John Vanderlyn, the Kingston-born protégé of Aaron Burr, who later was to become a member of the National Academy. After extensive study in Paris where he gained high honors, Vanderlyn returned to America to paint the portraits of the local residents as well as murals and landscapes."

They further write: "Vanderlyn's work, steadily gaining in popular esteem as it becomes more widely known, brings thousands of art lovers to our Museum each year. He won the Napoleonic Gold Medal for his 'Marius amid the Ruins of Carthage', a copy of which hangs in the Senate House Museum. Here too will be found his magnificent, 'Niagara.'"

One of John Vanderlyn's most famous paintings is of course "The Landing of Columbus" in the Rotunda at the Capitol in Washington, D. C. Reproductions of this life-size painting appears all over the country before and on Columbus Day each year. It also was on the back of the old large five dollar bill, and on a stamp during the Columbian Exposition. This pamphlet was published through the courtesy of the Kingston Savings Bank at 273 Wall Street, uptown Kingston. That is the bank with the clock, and also Pike's historical mural on the wall.

Banks, 6 Other Seafarers' Aides Ordered to Court

MONTREAL (AP)—Seven officials of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada, including President Harold C. Banks, have been ordered to appear Thursday at a preliminary hearing on conspiracy charges.

They were arraigned Friday on the charges, stemming from a protest march on Ottawa last fall. They were released on $1,000 bonds each, pending the hearing.

Arraigned with Banks were Leonard J. McLaughlin, his top aide, and five other union officials, Rene Turcotte, Gilbert Gauthier, Gilbert Johnson, Raymond Doucet and Ronald Swait.

They are accused of conspiring to persuade seamen from 47 ships to desert in order to take part in the march. Last Oct. 21 on the House of Commons in Ottawa to protest a government decision to set up a board of trustees to oversee the affairs of the seafarers and four other maritime unions.

55 Scouts Sign For '64 Jamboree

The Boy Scout Jamboree Committee announced today that 55 boys from Rip Van Winkle Council, embracing Ulster and Greene Counties, have signed up, to date, for the National Jamboree, July 17-23 at Valley Forge, Pa.

10 From City District

According to the committee, the registrants include 10 from Kingston District; 8 from Rondout Valley District; 11 from Saugerties District; 17 from Mohican Trail District, and 9 from Southern District. The committee said 19 more reservations, plus at least six alternates, are being held open for boys who qualify. Registered Boy Scouts at least 12 years of age as of last October 1, and who attained First Class rank on or before July 1, 1964; and registered Explorers with a minimum of six months' tenure by Jan. 1, 1964, or who have been transferred directly from a Boy Scout Troop, are eligible for the Jamboree. Requirements: Complete details are available from any Scoutmaster or Explorer Advisor in Ulster or Greene Counties.

Meanwhile, plans were announced for the local contingent attending the week-long Jamboree. Members of Rip Van Winkle Council will have a three-day training phase at Camp Tri-Mount prior to the Jamboree and will make the Pennsylvania trip by chartered bus. The Jamboree troops include six leaders, consisting of a scoutmaster and two assistant scoutmasters for each troop of 37 boys. The leaders include Scoutmasters Robert Tremper, Ulster Park, and Anthony Zinnanti Sr., Catskill, and Assistant Scoutmasters Lyle Proper, Kerhonkson; Harry Slobodian, Saugerties; Paul Seyferth, Mt. Marion and Edmund Dapp, Highland.

The Jamboree will give the local contingent, part of an estimated 50,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers and their leaders participating, an opportunity to see the place where George Washington's men camped and struggled to rebuild their strength in the winter of 1777.

Several Features

Program features at the Valley Forge Jamboree include scoutcraft activities, field sports, conservation projects, outdoor religious services, evening shows, skill booths, speakers, entertainers, visitors of national prominence, and a boat trip on the Delaware River in a genuine side-wheeler steamer. Purpose of the Jamboree is to bring to boys and leaders a clearer understanding of and a deeper sense of commitment to the ideals of scouting; to build for those who attend and those who remain at home, a deep pride in belonging to one of the free world's great youth movements; to show America and the world the atmosphere and objective of a huge youth gathering as conducted by a great youth movement in a free society; to give boys a rich and genuine scouting experience, and to help boys know and love America through learning more about the principles and history of the democracy.

Skeptical of Unity

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—The bishop of Hulme has warned Church of England parishioners against "starry-eyed optimism" on achieving unity with the Roman Catholic Church. Speaking at Manchester Cathedral Friday, the Rt. Rev. K. V. Ramsey said: "The arms of the Church of Rome are stretched out more obviously in welcome, but there is to be no going out to meet us halfway. The Roman Catholic Church has shown no signs of self-questioning about doctrines which others find impossible to accept."

February Slides In

Meanwhile, two other persons were injured in three city traffic accidents today and Friday as February made a slushy debut.

Frederick Claude Minkler, 25, of 19 Dunn Street, suffered a mouth injury when his car skidded off Abel Street near Hudson Street and struck a utility pole. Patrolmen Joseph Kivlan and John Kennedy said Minkler was driving west on Abel early this morning when his vehicle skidded on a curve.

Virginia Williams, of 51 Sycamore Street, suffered a leg injury in a two-car collision Friday afternoon at Railroad Avenue and Thomas Street.

Police said she was a passenger in a taxi cab owned by the Kingston Central Cab Co. and driven by Robert Eck, 48, of 37 Railroad Avenue. They said Dennis Meehan, 20, of Connelly, was driving north on Railroad Avenue and the taxi was traveling east when the two vehicles skidded into each other at the intersection.

Gerald Martin, 65, of 708 Broadway, escaped injury when the car he was driving collided with a New York Central freight train at the Flatbush Avenue crossing.

Patrolman Otto Short and George Dougherty said Martin was driving a car owned by Alice Gibson, of 172 Millerside Avenue, Woodridge. They said he was traveling west on Flatbush Avenue and went through the railroad crossing while the gates were down and the red signal lights were flashing. Police said the train, identified as a cement hopper, was operated by John Schwartz, of Box 112, Jefferson Heights, Catskill.

Still Going Strong

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Michael A. Musmanno has had a varied career. He was a coal miner, steelworker, veteran of two world wars, a rear admiral in the Naval Reserve, composer, orator, and a judge at the war crime trials in Germany.

Now, at 66, a Pennsylvania Supreme Court justice, he is bidding for still another career—in the U. S. Senate. The Democratic state policy committee in Pennsylvania has endorsed the Pittsburgh jurist for the party's nomination to the Senate seat.

Smoking Tax Losses

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois Department of Revenue has reported a drop of more than $500,000 in state cigarette taxes for the first 30 days of 1964.

Director Harry L. Hulman said Friday tax collections as of Jan. 30 were slightly more than $3.5 million, compared with more than $4 million for the same period in 1963.

Hulman said the drop was definitely caused by the U.S. surgeon general's report on smoking and its effect on health.

Cigarette taxes for the first 10 days of January were only about $150,000 less than for the first days of last year, Hulman said. The surgeon general's report was made pub. Jan. 11.

In the next 20 days the drop jumped to $415,000, Hulman said.

Hulman said the state would lose more than $6 million this year in taxes if the trend continues.

Pleads Innocent To Murder, First, Assault Charges

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Alfred R. Mancuso, 30, has pleaded innocent to charges of first-degree murder and first-degree assault stemming from the shooting of a Rochester businessman Oct. 30 during an alleged holdup attempt.

A Monroe County grand jury handed down the indictments Friday.

Mancuso, accused of shooting Benjamin Oken, 62, pleaded innocent before Judge George D. Ogden of Monroe County.

Mancuso, sent to Attica State Prison after his conviction for a holdup in New York City in 1953, was released last Aug. 24. He was arrested Nov. 2 on a vagrancy charge and again Nov. 20 on two motor-vehicle charges.

He was questioned both times in connection with the Oken shooting and denied he was involved.

Dairy Views Draw Praise, Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's dairy program has drawn praise and criticism from New York members of Congress.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., said Friday he was delighted that Johnson reaffirmed in his farm message to Congress the Administration's support for a voluntary program to reduce surpluses.

But Sens. Kenneth B. Keating and Jacob K. Javits, Republicans, called the message disappointing.

Keating said the plan would result in a complete breakdown of milk-marketing orders and means an invasion of New York markets by mid-west producers.

Cite Church Dispute

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Exiled Cuban church officials asked the World Council of Churches today to investigate what they called increasing persecution of Protestants in Cuba.

They cited newly imposed restrictions, harassment of pastors and closing of churches.

The Movement for Christian Action, headed by the Rev. Manuel Viera, exiled Methodist pastor now in Tampa, Fla., told the council in Geneva, Switzerland, that Protestants "have been persecuted, first in subtle and silent ways, later openly, and always in a systematic and implacable way by the Communist regime."

Predict Charges Against Hoffa to Finish Next Week

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Government attorneys predict they will complete their jury-tampering charges late next week against Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and five others.

"We definitely expect to finish up next week," said chief prosecutor James Neal of Washington at the conclusion Friday of the trial's second week before U.S. Dist. Court Judge Frank Wilson.

Defense attorneys said they cannot estimate how much time they will take until the government rests its case.

The six are accused of trying to influence jurors in Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial at Nashville. That trial ended with a hung jury.

Banks, 6 Other Seafarers' Aides Ordered to Court

MONTREAL (AP)—Seven officials of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada, including President Harold C. Banks, have been ordered to appear Thursday at a preliminary hearing on conspiracy charges.

They were arraigned Friday on the charges, stemming from a protest march on Ottawa last fall. They were released on $1,000 bonds each, pending the hearing.

Arraigned with Banks were Leonard J. McLaughlin, his top aide, and five other union officials, Rene Turcotte, Gilbert Gauthier, Gilbert Johnson, Raymond Doucet and Ronald Swait.

55 Scouts Sign For '64 Jamboree

The Boy Scout Jamboree Committee announced today that 55 boys from Rip Van Winkle Council, embracing Ulster and Greene Counties, have signed up, to date, for the National Jamboree, July 17-23 at Valley Forge, Pa.

10 From City District

According to the committee, the registrants include 10 from Kingston District; 8 from Rondout Valley District; 11 from Saugerties District; 17 from Mohican Trail District, and 9 from Southern District. The committee said 19 more reservations, plus at least six alternates, are being held open for boys who qualify. Registered Boy Scouts at least 12 years of age as of last October 1, and who attained First Class rank on or before July 1, 1964, and registered Explorers with a minimum of six months' tenure by Jan. 1, 1964, or who have been transferred directly from a Boy Scout Troop, are eligible under the Jamboree Requirements. Complete details are available from any Scoutmaster or Explorer Advisor in Ulster or Greene Counties.

Meanwhile, plans were announced for the local contingent attending the week-long Jamboree. Members of Rip Van Winkle Council will have a three-day training phase at Camp Tri-Mount prior to the Jamboree and will make the Pennsylvania trip by chartered bus. The Jamboree troops include six leaders, consisting of a scoutmaster and two assistant scoutmasters for each troop of 37 boys. The leaders include Scoutmasters Robert Tremper, Ulster Park, and Anthony Zimanti Sr., Catskill, and Assistant Scoutmasters Lyle Proper, Kerhonkson; Harry Slobodian, Saugerties; Paul Seyferth, Mt. Marion and Edmund Dapp, Highland.

The Jamboree will give the local contingent, part of an estimated 50,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers and their leaders participating, an opportunity to see the place where George Washington's men camped and struggled to rebuild their strength in the winter of 1777.

Program features at the Valley Forge Jamboree include scoutcraft activities, field sports, conservation projects, outdoor religious services, evening shows, skill booths, speakers, entertainers, visitors of national prominence, and a boat trip on the Delaware River in a genuine side-wheeler steamboat.

Purpose of the Jamboree is to bring to boys and leaders a clearer understanding of and a deeper sense of commitment to the ideals of scouting; to build for those who attend and those who remain at home, a deep pride in belonging to one of the free world's great youth movements; to show America and the world the atmosphere and objective of a huge youth gathering as conducted by a great youth movement in a free society; to give boys a rich and genuine Scouting experience, and to help boys know and love America through learning more about the principles and history of the democracy.

Skeptical of Unity

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—The bishop of Hulme has warned Church of England parishioners against "starry-eyed optimism" on achieving unity with the Roman Catholic Church. Speaking at Manchester Cathedral Friday, the Rt. Rev. K. V. Ramsey said: "The arms of the Church of Rome are stretched out more obviously in welcome, but there is to be no going out to meet us halfway. The Roman Catholic Church has shown no signs of self-questioning about doctrines which others find impossible to accept."

Meanwhile, two other persons were injured in three city traffic accidents today and Friday as February made a slushy debut.

Frederick Claude Minkler, 25, of 19 Dury Street, suffered a mouth injury when his car skidded off Abel Street near Hudson Street and struck a utility pole. Patrolmen Joseph Kivian and John Kennedy said Minkler was driving west on Abel early this morning when his vehicle skidded on a curve.

Virginia Williams, of 51 Sycamore Street, suffered a leg injury in a two-car collision Friday afternoon at Railroad Avenue and Thomas Street.

Police said she was a passenger in a taxi cab owned by the Kingston Central Cab Co., and driven by Robert Eck, 48, of 37 Railroad Avenue. They said Dennis Meehan, 20, of Connelly, was driving north on Railroad Avenue and the taxi was traveling east when the two vehicles skidded into each other at the intersection.

Gerald Martin, 65, of 708 Broadway, escaped injury when the car he was driving collided with a New York Central freight train at the Flatbush Avenue crossing.

Patrolman Otto Short and George Dougherty said Martin was driving a car owned by Alice Gibson, of 172 Millers Avenue, Woodridge. Director Harry L. Hulman said Friday tax collections as of Jan. 30 were slightly more than $3.5 million, compared with more than $4 million for the same period in 1963.

Hulman said the drop was definitely caused by the U. S. surgeon general's report on smoking and its effect on health.

Cigarette taxes for the first 10 days of January were only about $150,000 less than for the first days of last year, Hulman said. The surgeon general's report was made pub. Jan. 11.

In the next 20 days the drop jumped to $415,000, Hulman said.

Hulman said the state would lose more than $6 million this year in taxes if the trend continues.

Fire Shields Gunman
AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—A bandit used a wall of fire to aid his getaway after robbing a supermarket of $10,000 Friday.

Police said the gunman poured gasoline on a pathway between the store and another building before he entered the store.

Upon leaving with the money, officers said, he dropped a match into the gasoline, then ran down the street.

Store manager Lewis Swan said the flames kept pursuers from following the gunman.

Long Suit Is Hold Up Sign

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. "I expect you to make bad plays," growled West, "I usually keep quiet, but when you accompany your bad play with a speech the combination is too much for me."

It seems that South had won the opening spade lead and played his king of clubs. East had put on his ace and remarked fatuously, "Aces were made to take kings."

Once East played the ace there were no further problems. East still made his jack of clubs, but declarer made the other 11 tricks.

Had East stopped to think when that first club was led he would have seen that declarer would have to continue clubs if he wanted to make the contract. He would have let the king hold the trick and won the next club. Declarer could still set up the rest of the club suit, but he would have had to get over to dummy to do it and that would use up dummy's only entry so that the last three good clubs would be useless.

There would still be lots of play left to the hand, but assuming that East and West played carefully South would make only eight tricks instead of 11.

How should a player know when to hold up? There is no absolute rule, but in general you have nothing to lose and a lot to gain if you hold up when opponent plays his own long suit.

Pleads Innocent To Murder, First, Assault Charges

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Alfred R. Mancuso, 30, has pleaded innocent to charges of first-degree murder and first-degree assault stemming from the shooting of a Rochester businessman Oct. 30 during an alleged holdup attempt.

A Monroe County grand jury handed down the indictments Friday.

Mancuso, accused of shooting Benjamin Oken, 62, pleaded innocent before Judge George D. Ogden of Monroe County.

Mancuso, sent to Attica State Prison after his conviction for a holdup in New York City in 1953, was released last Aug. 24. He was arrested Nov. 2 on a vagrancy charge and again Nov. 20 on two motor-vehicle charges.

He was questioned both times in connection with the Oken shooting and denied he was involved.

Dairy Views Draw Praise, Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's dairy program has drawn praise and criticism from New York members of Congress.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., said Friday he was delighted that Johnson reaffirmed in his farm message to Congress the Administration's support for a voluntary program to reduce surpluses.

But Sens. Kenneth B. Keating and Jacob K. Javits, Republicans, called the message disappointing.

Keating said the plan would result in a complete breakdown of milk-marketing orders and means an invasion of New York markets by mid-west producers.

Cite Church Dispute

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Exiled Cuban church officials asked the World Council of Churches today to investigate what they called increasing persecution of Protestants in Cuba.

They cited newly imposed restrictions, harassment of pastors and closing of churches.

The Movement for Christian Action, headed by the Rev. Manuel Viera, exiled Methodist pastor now in Tampa, Fla., told the council in Geneva, Switzerland, that Protestants "have been persecuted, first in subtle and silent ways, later openly, and always in a systematic and implacable way by the Communist regime."

Fugitive Is Arrested

A New Jersey man was being held in Ulster County Jail today for authorities from that state, where he is wanted as a fugitive from justice and on a grand larceny charge.

State Police at Lake Katrine said Joseph S. Guider, 21, was arrested yesterday at New Paltz. They said he waived extradition to New Jersey where he is wanted in Lindhurst for passing a worthless check.

Quell House Fire

Lake Hill firemen were summoned to the Roberto Ramirez home on the Hollow Road on Friday afternoon where timbers under a fireplace had caught fire. The alarm was sounded through the County Fire Control Center at 3:38 p. m. There was some smoke damage. Woodstock Fire Companies under Chief George Haythorne stood by at the Woodstock fire house.

Card of Thanks

As it is impossible to thank each one individually who helped me and my family during my hospitalization, I am taking this way to do so. Thanks to all my friends, relatives, neighbors, Rev. Goette, Ruth Guild, Koenig Club, Kingston Hospital Nurses and Central Supply. May God bless each and everyone.

Predict Charges Against Hoffa to Finish Next Week

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Government attorneys predict they will complete their jury-tampering charges late next week against Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and five others.

"We definitely expect to finish up next week," said chief prosecutor James Neal of Washington at the conclusion Friday of the trial's second week before U. S. Dist. Court Judge Frank Wilson.

Defense attorneys said they cannot estimate how much time they will take until the government rests its case.

The six are accused of trying to influence jurors in Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial at Nashville. That trial ended with a hung jury.

AT CHURCH DANCE

Q—Recently I went to a church dance with two of my girl friends. At the dance I met a boy I used to go to school with and we danced quite a lot with each other during the evening. At about 11 o'clock my friends decided to leave and wanted me to go home with them. The boy with whom I had been dancing asked me to stay and said that he would take me home. My friends were very perturbed because I did not go home with them and have accused me of "leaving them flat." Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

A—Had there been just the two of you and your staying on at the dance left one girl to go home alone, it would have been very discourteous and selfish of you not to leave with her, but to let two of them go home together was not "leaving them flat."

Doesn't Know Who to Thank

Q—I received a very lovely engagement present from a friend. The card enclosed was signed "Anne" with no last name. I have two friends named Anne and I don't know which one sent the gift. I want to write a thank-you note, but to whom do I write it? Will you please tell me how I can properly handle this situation without causing embarrassment to anyone?

A—As you evidently do not recognize the handwriting, the only thing you can do is to telephone the one you think is likely to have sent you the present and ask, "Did you send me the lovely whatever-it-is?"

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD D. TERPENING (Photo Workshop)

Maines-Terpening Wedding Is Announced; Ceremony Takes Place in St. Peter's Church

Miss Lucille Marie Maines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Maines of 16 Reynolds Street, this city, exchanged marriage vows with Richard Donald Terpening, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Donald Terpening of 156 Lampman Avenue, Port Ewen, on January 26 in St. Peter's Church, this city.

Officiating at the 3 p. m. double ring ceremony was the Rev. Robert Duane, assistant pastor. Miss Nan Goldrick was organist and Miss Rita Horvers was the soloist.

Mr. Maines gave his daughter in marriage. She wore an ivory peau de soie styled gown with lace bodice and mandarin neckline. The full skirt featured a front panel of lace and a sweeping chapel length train. Her illusion veil was secured with a cap of lace petals and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of ivory cymbidium orchids with ivy.

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Marie. Mrs. Robert H. Maines of Hurley, sister-in-law of the bride, served as the matron of honor. Other bridesmaids were Kathleen Terpening of Port Ewen, sister of the bridegroom; Donna Terpening, another sister; and Diane Maurer of Port Ewen.

The honor attendants wore floor length gowns of gold peau satin of stylized flowers to which were attached flirtation veils. They carried cascades of wine colored pompons.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of romance blue satin in floor length, caps of stylized flowers with short flirtation veils and carried cascades of yellow pompons.

Charles Montafia of Port Ewen was best man and ushering were Robert Maines of Hurley, brother of the bride; George Matthews, Robert Sturrock and John Clark, all of Port Ewen.

Approximately 175 guests were entertained at a reception given at The Capri.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and is employed by Overhead Door Sales Co. Her husband is an alumnus of Kingston High and is also employed by Overhead.

Mr. and Mrs. Terpening will be at home at 208 Broadway, Port Ewen.

AT CHURCH DANCE

Q—Recently I went to a church dance with two of my girl friends. At the dance I met a boy I used to go to school with and we danced quite a lot with each other during the evening. At about 11 o'clock my friends decided to leave and wanted me to go home with them. The boy with whom I had been dancing asked me to stay and said that he would take me home. My friends were very perturbed because I did not go home with them and have accused me of "leaving them flat." Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

A—Had there been just the two of you and your staying on at the dance left one girl to go home alone, it would have been very discourteous and selfish of you not to leave with her, but to let two of them go home together was not "leaving them flat."

Doesn't know who to thank? Q—I received a very lovely engagement present from a friend. The card enclosed was signed "Anne" with no last name. I have two friends named Anne and I don't know which one sent the gift. I want to write a thank-you note, but to whom do I write it? Will you please tell me how I can properly handle this situation without causing embarrassment to anyone?

A—As you evidently do not recognize the handwriting, the only thing you can do is to telephone the one you think is likely to have sent you the present and ask, "Did you send me the lovely whatever-it-is?"

Card Parties

Holy Cross Women

The Women of Holy Cross Episcopal Church will sponsor a card party Saturday, Feb. 8, at 8 p. m. in the parish hall, 30 Pine Grove Avenue. The public may attend. There will be awards and refreshments.

Fixing Scars Keeps Furniture Looking Young

By MR. FIX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Proper care can add years of additional life to your furniture. For the most part regular dusting and polishing will keep furniture new looking.

Whether wax or polish is used, it should be rubbed well. If allowed to accumulate, the wax or polish will dull the surface. Excess can be cleaned off with turpentine or wax removing compounds. Then start over again with wax or polish, rubbing briskly.

The environment can affect the life of furniture no matter how much you care for it. Heat and moisture are both enemies. Do not place furniture too close to a radiator. Damp rooms—if they are consistently so—can prove damaging to furniture.

Even the newest furniture looks quickly aged with the appearance of scratches and other marks.

Some Scratch

Light scratches can be covered with some of the special compounds sold for that purpose or with shellac sticks of the proper color.

Sometimes you can take out the scratch by using a fine brush with turpentine and applying it to the scratch. If the damaged area is large, you will have to remove the varnish from around it. Do this carefully. Do not scratch the wood. Use a razor blade or a small piece of sandpaper. Then apply coats of varnish, waiting for each one to dry before applying another, until the surface is built up again.

White marks often appear, sometimes caused by water or other spilled liquids. Often they can be removed by brisk rubbing with a polishing cloth.

If this doesn't work, try turpentine or camphorated oil, or a mild silver polish or finely ground rottenstone mixed with light oil.

Deep seated stains may call for a light rubbing with denatured alcohol. Use sparingly and watch that the surface does not become sticky. If it does, add a drop or two of linseed oil.

Removing Dents

Dents occur when the wood fibers are compressed sharply. The surface can be restored by moistening it after first removing all polish or wax so that the water can soak in.

A damp cloth over the surface will keep it moist. After a few hours a warm iron placed over the cloth should draw up the dent.

A certain amount of damage to the surrounding surface occurs during this procedure. This may be removed by polishing. Stick wax can be used to fill the dent. These are available in colors to match a variety of finishes. This is not a permanent repair, however.

Surfaces that are too badly marred need to be entirely refinished. Determine if the piece is worth saving before doing this. Refinishing requires removal of the old finish either by scraping and sanding or by use of a chemical remover. Chemical removers generally remove the stain as well and re-staining will be necessary. Shellac surfaces can be removed by softening with alcohol and then wiping.

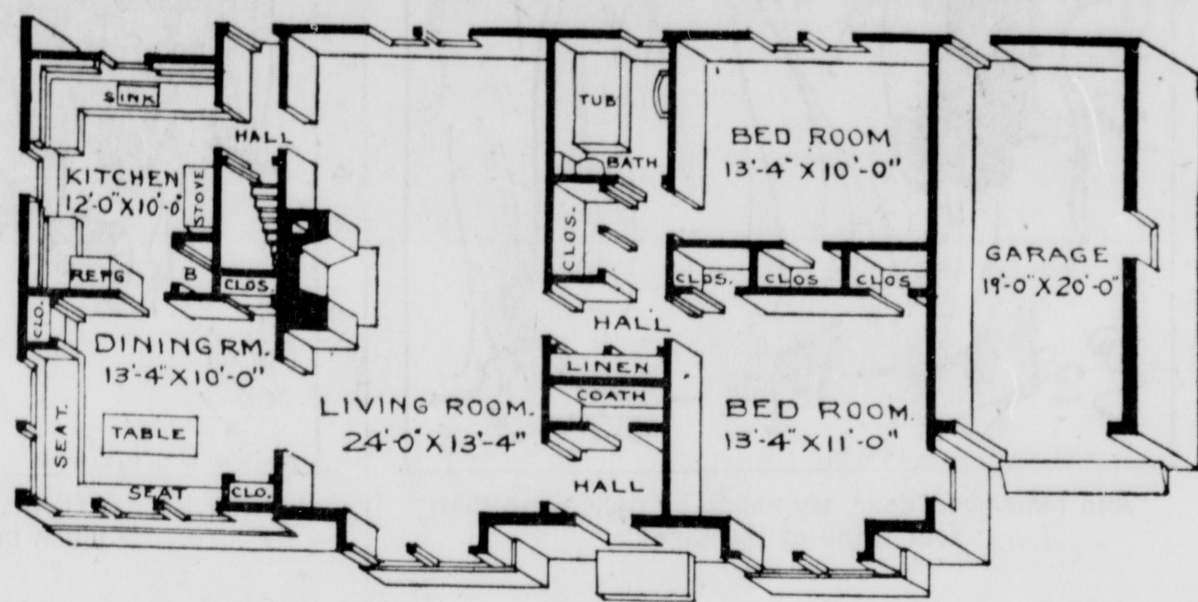

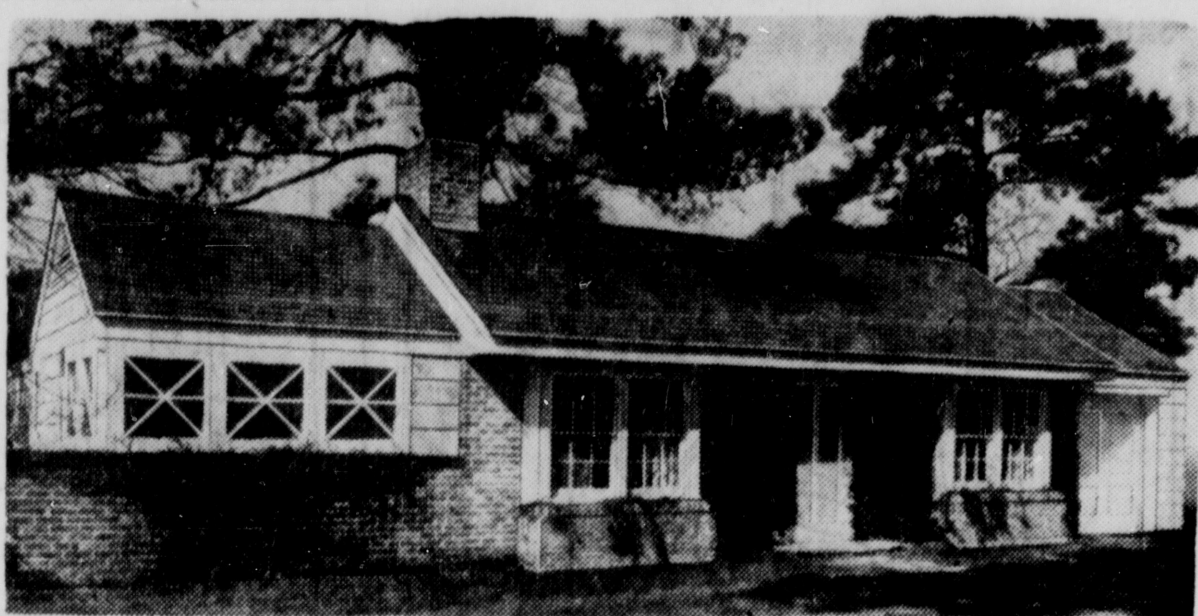

Armor Against Time

Mount Vernon, George Washington's Potomac plantation, is as bright today as it was when Washington and his family occupied it in the 18th century. Deeds, the ever-present enemy of old buildings, has been combated effectively by paint, reports the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. General Washington, like 20th century homeowners, recognized the vital importance of adequate maintenance. Today, the work of maintaining the plantation buildings has been reduced because of the technological improvements in paints. Every effort is made to conform with the original colors and surface appearances determined by Washington himself.

Low Roof Line Adds To Cozy Appearance

Rooms Five
Bedrooms Two
Closets Ten
Cubage 22,000 feet
Garage 3,000 feet
Dimensions 58 by 25 feet

The low sloping roof line seems to tie this house to the ground and adds to its cozy, home-like appearance. Any type of exterior finish can, of course, be used for this house—but brick, used as in the illustration, is especially suitable. Any setting also will be appropriate for this house—but a rural or suburban site would set the house off to best advantage.

With overall measurements of 58 by 25 feet, this house requires at least an 80-foot lot. Cubage of the house is 22,000 feet; garage cubage is 3,000 feet.

Five Rooms

There are five rooms inside this well-planned house. Both of the bedrooms are located in the right wing. Each features good lighting and ventilation and excellent storage facilities. The all modern bath—which is large enough for both a tub and a shower—is conveniently near to the bedrooms. Every housewife is certain to appreciate the large all-purpose closet that opens off the connecting hallway near the bedrooms. The extra size linen closet will win plenty of approval, too.

Largest of the rooms in the house, the living room is also a very pleasant room. It features windows in both the front and back walls. A large fireplace is also suggested for this room.

Dual Role

The comfortable and attractive dining room is so designed and located that it can double as a breakfast nook. Built-in seats are suggested for the front and left walls of the room. And, you'll find the built-in china cabinets practical suggestions to follow, too.

Indoor Painting

Planning to paint the interior of your home? "Indoor Painting," a booklet published by the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, is filled with hints to help you achieve the perfect results that you want. Included in the booklet is information on how to paint every part of the interior, from floor to ceiling, and how to make post-painting clean-up easier. For your free copy, write the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Avenue, N.W., Washington 5, D.C.

First Brick Kiln

The first brick kiln in America was built in Salem, Massachusetts, in 1629. Over a hundred years later, in 1735, Huster, a German tilemaker, manufactured the first American-made roofing tile in Pennsylvania.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, Feb. 1, 1964. There are 334 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1790, the Royal Exchange Building in New York City was the site of the first meeting by the U.S. Supreme Court. Chief Justice John Jay presided.

On this date: In 1864, President Abraham Lincoln called for 500,000 volunteers to serve three years in the Union Army.

In 1905, President Theodore Roosevelt signed legislation creating the U.S. Forest Service.

In 1949, enlisted men served with officers on a court-martial for the first time in U.S. history.

Ten years ago — The New York Giants traded their 1951 pennant hero, Bobby Thomson, to the Milwaukee Braves in a deal involving six players.

Five years ago — Retired billiards champion Willie Hoppe died at the age of 71 after a long illness.

One year ago — Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker accused the United States of unwarranted interference in Canadian affairs in a dispute over defense policies.

Slate Purchase Of Recreations Lands; 2 in Area

The signing of 35 purchase agreements—two in the Hudson Valley—at a cost of $87,694 under New York's Park and Recreation Land Acquisition Bond Act programs was announced today by the State Conservation Department.

Current acquisitions cover 1,809 acres in 18 counties and bring to $12,591,045 the amount obligated during the past three years in acquiring state land for public recreation and conservation purposes. Under the bond act programs, a total of $20 million is authorized to buy lands and waters in categories other than state and municipal parks.

To date, more than 1,550 purchase agreements have been signed throughout the state totaling 253,815 acres. These include potential sites for public boat launching areas, camps, swimming, multiple use, forest preserve, fishing rights and special use areas.

Under the bond act programs, the state does not officially take title to the land until signed purchase agreements have been approved by the State Law Department and the Department of Audit and Control.

A summary of purchase agreements announced today include: GREENE—171 acres in the Town of Hunter as an addition to the Catskill Forest Preserve. Bounded on three sides by existing Forest Preserve property, the parcel is in an area known as Silver Hollow and borders Warner Creek, a typical Catskill Mountain trout stream.

SULLIVAN—52 mile of public fishing rights along the east bank of the Neversink River near Glenkill.

Another type of approved cleaner is basically the same, but contains less wax. When this kind is used, a separate application of wax is recommended. For polishing, an ordinary soft cloth is adequate.

Brick From Burned Clay

A rose by any other name would smell as sweet, but only brick made of burned clay can be called "brick." The Federal Trade Commission has ruled that "brick" is a building unit made of burned clay.

Girl Scout Troop 159 will have a snow hike Sunday afternoon. They will meet 2 p. m. at the schoolhouse.

Boy Scout Troop 9 will start Scout Week by having a family dinner and court of honor at the Redeemer Lutheran Church 6 p. m. Saturday, Feb. 8.

The regular monthly meeting of the civic group will be held Monday 8 p. m. Supervisor Roger Mabie will be the guest speaker. All interested persons may attend.

TV Doctor Not Limiting Self, Radio and Films

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Almost any morning Bob Crane can be seen dashing across the intersection of Sunset and Gower, en route from one job to another.

From 6 to 10 a. m. he operates one of the most talked-about Hollywood radio shows, a combination of music, interviews and wackiness on the CBS station, KNX.

On Donna's Show

Then he races to Screen Gems to assume his role as Dr. Dave Kelsey on "The Donna Reed Show." This season he became a regular on the television comedy.

He isn't limiting himself. Coming up: movies for Jerry Lewis and Walt Disney.

Bob started as a drummer in his home town, Stamford, Conn. Always the clown, he moved into radio in Bridgeport. He was hoping to hit the big time in New York, but the call came from the West Coast.

Crane's KNX show soon attracted a vast and loyal following. For eight years he has been firing wild and sometimes pointed questions at celebrities, and most of them love it.

"There have been exceptions, but very few," Crane said. "Once I started tossing quips at Shelley Berman and he got more and more incensed. Finally, during a commercial, he exploded, 'I didn't come here to be a straight man,' and walked out."

$70,000—Not Content

"On the other hand, a star like Bette Davis will be off and running from the moment we start talking. Another great one was Jonathan Winters. He held back the first time he was on because he didn't realize how far I went. Then he asked to come back again and he was out of this world."

Although radio paid him an estimated $70,000 a year, Crane was not content. He sought comedy leads in little theater plays and drew good reviews. He was ready when the call came for an important role in a "Dick Van Dyke Show." That led to the "The Donna Reed Show."

What will the future bring? "I look at the things that Dick Van Dyke and Danny Kaye do on television, and I think: Maybe I could do that. And I never miss a Jack Lemmon picture."

Barry Presses Missouri Drive

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona has accused the Johnson administration of "cockeyed thinking" on the cold war, "juggling of words" on disarmament and "bunkum" on Cuba.

Courting Missouri Republicans in his bid for the GOP presidential nomination, Goldwater insisted it is time for the party to offer the voters a choice and stop trying "to ape the Democrats."

The Arizona senator pressed his campaign Friday at airport rallies in St. Louis and Kansas City, on a "Goldwater special" charter flight that carried 91 Republicans between the two cities and at a $100-a-plate fundraising dinner here.

Goldwater took on Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, charging the Pentagon chief had "so far failed to prove" that U.S. missiles are dependable.

Rifton Firemen Elect Officers

At the annual dinner and installation of officers of the Rifton Fire Department held on Saturday, January 25, at Shannon's Hotel, Rifton, John O'Connor was installed as president of the company. Other officers are:

Walter Bailey, chief; Roy McLebert, assistant chief; Phil Stokes, deputy chief; Robert Ashcroft, captain; Harold Bailey, first lieutenant; Ralph Filipowicz, second lieutenant; Peter J. Marintich, secretary and Lou Wheeler, treasurer.

The event was largely attended with guests from New Paltz, St. Remy, Esopus, Port Ewen. Dancing and entertainment followed the dinner.

Officers of the Rifton Fire Police are Joseph James Feraca, captain; George Mirac, assistant captain; Milton Schwartz, Lou Wheeler, Carl Cornell, William Zacher, Fred Wheeler, Ray Helmich, Roe Wheeler and Hugo Kastner, officers.

Home Extension Service News

Will the new sleepers you buy for your children remain comfortable, warm and pretty the winter through? This question is discussed in the following article by Phillip W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent:

Extension specialists advise buying sleeping garments one size larger than a child normally wears. Because thermal knits tend to shrink more than average, buy these garments two sizes larger.

Tests on sleepers conducted at Cornell University showed that shrinkage was so great that the sleepers became too small even before the end of a single season. Even sleepers whose shrinkage was rated less than average changed in dimensions by a full size after laundering.

Thermal knits were highly durable, the tests indicated. They also provided thickness with the least weight. File knits were a second choice.

Napped garments didn't retain their warmth value. After a few launderings the nap either became matted and ugly and useless as an insulator, or wore off, or both. The thermal knit was far superior to the napped garments.

Many mothers prefer plastic soles in sleepers and these launder well, tests show. The plastic soles may also help prevent falls. As for colorfastness, in tests on sleepers, all faded. Bleeding occurred in blues and aquas, and particularly in reds.

Delighted in Beauty

The Celts of ancient Britain genuinely delighted in beauty of form and detail and in flamboyant treatment of plant and animal forms. In this, they resembled the artists of the Middle Ages, especially as both mixed love of beauty with feeling for the fantastic and grotesque, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Sharp Stones

Crude stone knives, dug up on a scientific expedition in Wyoming, were used by Ice Age Men 11,000 years ago and are still sharp enough to cut meat and sinew.

W. Virginia Not Viewed as Key To '64 Hopes

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—West Virginia apparently will not be a key state for presidential hopefuls this year as it was in 1960 when John F. Kennedy fought and won a pivotal primary election.

Only one candidate — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller — has indicated he will enter the state's May 12 primary. Rockefeller announced Friday he will file today for the Republican primary.

The only other major announced candidate for the GOP nomination, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Friday he does not plan to enter the West Virginia race.

Rockefeller called on all aspirants to file in West Virginia. "I want them to get into the fight," he said. "The more the merrier."

Fixing Scars Keeps Furniture Looking Young

By MR. FIX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Proper care can add years of additional life to your furniture. For the most part regular dusting and polishing will keep furniture new looking.

Whether wax or polish is used, it should be rubbed well. If allowed to accumulate, the wax or polish will dull the surface. Excess can be cleaned off with turpentine or wax removing compounds. Then start over again with wax or polish, rubbing briskly.

The environment can affect the life of furniture no matter how much you care for it. Heat and moisture are both enemies. Do not place furniture too close to a radiator. Damp rooms—if they are consistently so—can prove damaging to furniture.

Even the newest furniture looks quickly aged with the appearance of scratches and other marks.

Some Scratch
Light scratches can be covered with some of the special compounds sold for that purpose or with shellac sticks of the proper color.

Sometimes you can take out the scratches by using a fine brush with turpentine and applying it to the scratch. If the damaged area is large, you will have to remove the varnish from around it. Do this carefully. Do not scratch the wood. Use a razor blade or a small piece of sandpaper. Then apply coats of varnish, waiting for each one to dry before applying another, until the surface is built up again.

White marks, often appear, sometimes caused by water or other spilled liquids. Often they can be removed by brisk rubbing with a polishing cloth.

If this doesn't work, try turpentine or camphorated oil, or a mild silver polish or finely ground rottenstone mixed with light oil.

Deep seated stains may call for a light rubbing with denatured alcohol. Use sparingly and watch that the surface does not become sticky. If it does, add a drop or two of linseed oil.

Removing Dents
Dents occur when the wood fibers are compressed sharply. The surface can be restored by moistening it after first removing all polish or wax so that the water can soak in.

A damp cloth over the surface will keep it moist. After a few hours a warm iron placed over the cloth should draw up the dent.

A certain amount of damage to the surrounding surface occurs during this procedure. This may be removed by polishing. Stick wax can be used to fill the dent. These are available in colors to match a variety of finishes. This is not a permanent repair, however.

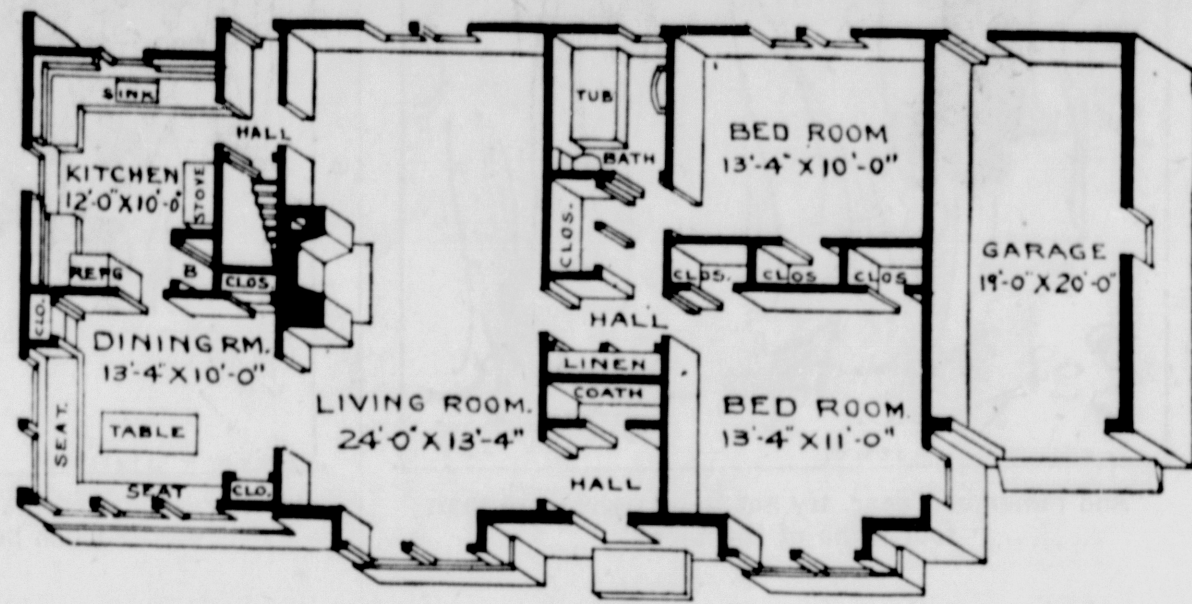

Surfaces that are too badly marred need to be entirely refinished. Determine if the piece is worth saving before doing this. Refinishing requires removal of the old finish either by sanding and sanding or by use of a chemical remover. Chemical removers generally remove the stain as well as re-staining will be necessary. Shellac surfaces can be removed by softening with alcohol and then wiping.

Armor Against Time
Mount Vernon, George Washington's Potomac plantation, is as bright today as it was when Washington and his family occupied it in the 18th century. Decaying, the ever-present enemy of old buildings, has been combated effectively by paint, reports the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. General Washington, like 20th century homeowners, recognized the vital importance of adequate maintenance. Today, the work of maintaining the plantation buildings has been reduced because of the technological improvements in paints. Every effort is made to conform with the original colors and surface appearances determined by Washington himself.

Low Roof Line Adds To Cozy Appearance

Rooms Five
Bedrooms Two
Closets Ten
Cubage 22,000 feet

House 22,000 feet
Garage 3,000 feet
Dimensions 58 by 25 feet

The low sloping roof line seems to tie this house to the ground and adds to its cozy, home-like appearance. Any type of exterior finish can, of course, be used for this house—but brick, used as in the illustration, is especially suitable. Any setting also will be appropriate for this house—but a rural or suburban site would set the house off to best advantage.

With overall measurements of 58 by 25 feet, this house requires at least an 80-foot lot. Cubage of the house is 22,000 feet; garage cubage is 3,000 feet.

Five Rooms
There are five rooms inside this well-planned house. Both of the bedrooms are located in the right wing. Each features good lighting and ventilation and excellent storage facilities. The all modern bath—which is large enough for both a tub and a shower—is conveniently near to the bedrooms. Every housewife is certain to appreciate the large all-purpose closet that opens off the connecting hallway near the bedrooms. The extra size linen closet will win plenty of approval, too.

Largest of the rooms in the house, the living room is also a very pleasant room. It features windows in both the front and back walls. A large fireplace is also suggested for this room.

Dual Role
The comfortable and attractive dining room is so designed and located that it can double as a breakfast nook. Built-in seats are suggested for the front and left walls of the room. And, you'll find the built-in china cabinets practical suggestions to follow, too.

Indoor Painting
Planning to paint the interior of your home? "Indoor Painting," a booklet published by the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, is filled with hints to help you achieve the perfect results that you want. Included in the booklet is information on pre-painting preparation, how to paint every surface from floor to ceiling, and how to make post-painting clean-up easier. For your free copy, write the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Avenue, N.W., Washington 5, D.C.

First Brick Kiln
The first brick kiln in America was built in Salem, Massachusetts, in 1629. Over a hundred years later, in 1735, Huster, a German tilemaker, manufactured the first American-made roofing tile in Pennsylvania.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Saturday, Feb. 1, 1964. There are 334 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1790, the Royal Exchange Building in New York City was the site of the first meeting by the U.S. Supreme Court. Chief Justice John Jay presided.

On this date: In 1864, President Abraham Lincoln called for 500,000 volunteers to serve three years in the Union Army. In 1905, President Theodore Roosevelt signed legislation creating the U.S. Forest Service.

In 1949, enlisted men served with officers on a court-martial for the first time in U.S. history.

Ten years ago — The New York Giants traded their 1951 pennant hero, Bobby Thomson, to the Milwaukee Braves in a deal involving six players.

Five years ago — Retired billiards champion Willie Hoppe died at the age of 71 after a long illness.

One year ago — Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker accused the United States of unwarranted interference in Canadian affairs in a dispute over defense policies.

Slate Purchase Of Recreations Lands; 2 in Area
The signing of 35 purchase agreements—two in the Hudson Valley—at a cost of $87,694 under New York's Park and Recreation Land Acquisition Bond Act programs was announced today by the State Conservation Department.

Current acquisitions cover 1,809 acres in 18 counties and bring to $12,591,045 the amount obligated during the past three years in acquiring state land for public recreation and conservation purposes. Under the bond act programs, a total of $20 million is authorized to buy lands and waters in categories other than state and municipal parks.

To date, more than 1,550 purchase agreements have been signed throughout the state totaling 253,815 acres. These include potential sites for public boat launching areas, campsites, wetlands, multiple use, forest preserve, fishing rights and special use areas.

Under the bond act programs, the state does not officially take title to the land until signed purchase agreements have been approved by the State Law Department and the Department of Audit and Control.

A summary of purchase agreements announced today include: GREENE—171 acres in the Town of Hunter as an addition to the Catskill Forest Preserve. Bounded on three sides by existing Forest Preserve property, the parcel is in an area known as Silver Hollow and borders Warner Creek, a typical Catskill Mountain trout stream.

SULLIVAN—52 mile of public fishing rights along the east bank of the Neversink River near Glenwild.

Another type of approved cleaner is basically the same, but contains less wax. When this kind is used, a separate application of wax is recommended. For polishing, an ordinary soft cloth is adequate.

Channel Chatter TV Doctor Not Limiting Self, Radio and Films

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Almost any morning Bob Crane can be seen dashing across the intersection of Sunset and Gower, en route from one job to another.

From 6 to 10 a.m. he operates one of the most talked - about Hollywood radio shows, a combination of music, interviews and wackiness on the CBS station, KNX.

On Donna's Show

Then he races to Screen Gems to assume his role as Dr. Dave Kelsey on "The Donna Reed Show." This season he became a regular on the television comedy.

He isn't limiting himself. Coming up: movies for Jerry Lewis and Walt Disney. Bob started as a drummer in his home town, Stamford, Conn. Always the clown, he moved into radio in Bridgeport. He was hoping to hit the big time in New York, but the call came from the West Coast.

Crane's KNX show soon attracted a vast and loyal following. For eight years he has been firing wild and sometimes pointed questions at celebrities, and most of them love it.

"There have been exceptions, but very few," Crane said. "Once I darted tossing quips at Shelley Berman and he got more and more incensed. Finally, during a commercial, he exploded. 'I didn't come here to be a straight man,' and walked out."

$70,000—Not Content

"On the other hand, a star like Bette Davis will be off and running from the moment we start talking. Another great one was Jonathan Winters. He held back the first time he was on because he didn't realize how far I went. Then he asked to come back again and he was out of this world."

Although radio paid him an estimated $70,000 a year, Crane was not content. He sought comedy leads in little theater plays and drew good reviews. He was ready when the call came for an important role in a "Dick Van Dyke Show."

That led to the "The Donna Reed Show."

"I look at the things that Dick Van Dyke and Danny Kaye do on television, and I think: Maybe I could do that. And I never miss a Jack Lemmon picture."

Barry Presses Missouri Drive

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona has accused the Johnson administration of "cockeyed thinking" on the cold war, "juggling of words" on disarmament and "bunkum" on Cuba.

Courting Missouri Republicans in his bid for the GOP presidential nomination, Goldwater insisted it is time for the party to offer the voters a choice and stop trying "to ape the Democrats."

The Arizona senator pressed his campaign Friday at airport rallies in St. Louis and Kansas City, on a "Goldwater special" charter flight that carried 91 Republicans between the two cities and a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner here.

Goldwater took on Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, charging the Pentagon chief had "so far failed to prove" that U.S. missiles are dependable.

Rifton Firemen Elect Officers

At the annual dinner and installation of officers of the Rifton Fire Department held on Saturday, January 25, at Shannon's Hotel, Rifton, John O'Connor was installed as president of the company. Other officers are:

Walter Baily, chief; Roy Melbert, assistant chief; Phil Stokes, deputy chief; Robert Ashcroft, captain; Harold Bailey, first lieutenant; Ralph Filipowicz, second lieutenant; Peter J. Marintsch, secretary and Lou Wheeler, treasurer.

The event was largely attended with guests from New Paltz, St. Remy, Esopus, Port Ewen, Danbury and entertainment followed the dinner.

Officers of the Rifton Fire Police are Joseph James Feraca, captain; George Miracle, assistant captain; Milton Schwartz, Lou Wheeler, Carl Cornell, William Zacher, Fred Wheeler, Ray Helmich, Roe Wheeler and Hugo Kastner, officers.

Home Extension Service News

Will the new sleepers you buy for your children remain comfortable, warm and pretty the winter through? This question is discussed in the following article by Phillip W. Barlow, county home demonstration agent:

Extension specialists advise buying sleeping garments one size larger than a child normally wears. Because thermal knits tend to shrink more than average, buy these garments two sizes larger.

Tests on sleepers conducted at Cornell University showed that shrinkage was so great that the sleepers became too small even before the end of a single season. Even sleepers whose shrinkage was rated less than average changed in dimensions by a full size after laundering.

Thermal knits were highly durable, the tests indicated. They also provided thickness with the least weight. Pile knits were a second choice.

Napped garments didn't retain their warmth value. After a few launderings the nap either became matted and ugly and useless as an insulator, or wore off, or both. The thermal knit was far superior to the napped garments.

Many mothers prefer plastic soles in sleepers and these launder well, tests show. The plastic soles may also help prevent falls.

As for colorfastness, in tests on sleepers, all faded. Bleeding occurred in blues and aquas, and particularly reds.

Delighted in Beauty
The Celts of ancient Britain genuinely delighted in beauty of form and detail and in flamboyant treatment of plant and animal forms. In this, they resembled the artists of the Middle Ages, especially as both mixed love of beauty with feeling for the fantastic and grotesque, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

High School Cagers Upset Poughkeepsie, 52-50, in OT

By ED PALLADINO

Poughkeepsie High school's hopes of winning a second consecutive DUSO Basketball championship were given their severest jolt of the season last night as a fired-up Kingston High quintet upset the Pioneers, 52-50, in a dramatic overtime struggle at the Kate Walton Field House.

Coach Jack Gilligan's improving Maroon cagers came back from the brink of defeat to score their biggest triumph of the season and avenge an earlier 63-42 pasting given them by the Pioneers.

This was a well-earned decision. The home side was down, 10-2, before the game was two minutes old. After bouncing back to knot the count at 10-10, the Maroon cagers fell behind once more. Late in the third period, Kingston seemed like a sure winner. The home quintet had a 39-32 margin and the Pioneers were in deep trouble as Hank Brown had picked up his fourth personal.

Brown Leads Comeback

But, sensing that their hopes of remaining close enough to league leading Newburgh were slipping away, the visitors stormed back and it was Brown who led them.

He converted a foul slip and then cashed in on a three-point play. After Charlie McPhee sliced the lead to a single point, 39-38, with 2:57 of the quarter left, Hank drove underneath for a score. A basket by Larry Ellem sent Poughkeepsie ahead, 42-39, and it looked as if the Maroon cagers were ready to collapse.

Marcus Ties Score

This was not the case. Larry Marcus broke the run of 10 straight points by scoring from the side. He was fouled on the play and his charity toss knotted the count at 42. Brown's long jump shot just before the buzzer put his club ahead once more.

Neither side scored in the first four minutes of the fourth period. Poughkeepsie was content to slow down the pace, looking for the easy shot. The locals had several opportunities but couldn't find the range.

Brown shattered the famine with a long one and with only 4:10 left, the PHS cagers had a 46-42 lead. However, the home side wasn't to be denied this time.

With the tension mounting and with the biggest crowd of the season starting to feel it, Marcus converted two foul shots, keeping his club within range at 46-44.

Tom Parker, a vastly underrated performer, hit from the side and the visitors once more had a four point lead and this time the clock showed only 3:06 remaining.

Lead Is Shaved

Mike Burns, who turned in a pressurized route-going performance, swiped a pass and cut in for a layup. Again the margin was down to a bucket but time was running out.

Working deliberately and looking for a shot, Poughkeepsie lost the ball. Jim Plunket plucked the rebound off the boards and was fouled. He calmly made both free throws to knot the score, 48-48, with 54 seconds remaining.

Obvious Strategy

The PHS strategy was now obvious. Hold the ball for as long as possible and try to work Brown free for the game winning shot. Hank did get the ball but he couldn't get by the defense and before he could take a shot, regulation time ran out.

Armstead broke the ice in the three-minute overtime session with a jumper from the side. This came with 1:38 left. Seconds later, Leon Hanna was fouled. He made one of two shots and the lead was now three points, 51-48, and this time it was Poughkeepsie which had to fight the clock. There was only 1:18 to go.

Ellem gave his club hope by tapping in a rebound with 57 seconds left. This made the scoreboard read, 51-50.

With the Pioneers employing a full-court press, the home side held the ball for more than half a minute. Finally, with 23 seconds left, Larry Armstead was fouled. He made one of two attempts.

Two Tries Fail

Needing a basket to tie the score, the visitors had two offensive tries in the final seconds. Brown was called for charging with 15 seconds to go and with seven seconds left, Parker was also cited for an offensive. The locals held the ball for the final seven seconds.

Though coach Gilligan used seven players, it was primarily the starting five of Marcus, Hanna, Plunket, Armstead and Burns which turned in the upset.

Armstead finished with 17 points. He scored 14 of them in the first half. In addition, this sophomore showed much poise as he quarterbacked the club.

Marcus and Plunket were also in double figures. Hanna, improving with each outing, brought the house down on two occasions when he went high above the rim to snag a rebound.

Superb Defense

On defense, the winners were superb. Burns and Marcus took turns at guarding the dangerous Brown. That they "limited" him to 18 points is proof they did their job. Parker scored 15 for the Pioneers and kept the locals off balance with his quick hands on defense.

Kingston is now 4-3 in circuit play and will journey to Liberty next Tuesday. Lourdes plays at the Field House on Wednesday.

Fallsmen Earn 72-62 Verdict In DCSL Tilt

Five players were in double figures as the Wappingers Central school Indians stopped Saugerties, 72-62, in a DCSL game last night at the SHS gym.

Coach Bud Smith's cagers, who beat the Fallsmen the previous week at Wappingers, fell behind in the second period and couldn't catch the invaders, who are playing without a senior in the lineup.

Standings:

Team	W	L
Arlington	4	2
Roosevelt	3	3
Wappingers	2	4
Saugerties	2	4
Lourdes	1	5

Sophomore Jim Ruff paced the winners with a 19 point production. He had ample help from his teammates. Paul (Boots) Buykins with 23 and John Luchkiewicz with 19 markers kept the Sawyers in the game. The others couldn't find the range.

The Sawyer jayvees upped their record to 8-2 with a 49-32 verdict over Wappingers.

Boxscore:

The Weather

SATURDAY, FEB. 1, 1964

Sun rises at 7:10 a. m.; sun sets at 5:10 p. m., E.S.T.
Weather: Snow, rain.

The Temperature

The lowest temperature recorded on The Freeman thermometer during the night was 26 degrees. The highest figure recorded up to noon today was 37 degrees.

Weather Forecast

STORMY

Lower Hudson Valley:

Light snow changing to rain this morning and continuing into tonight. Snow flurries later tonight and ending by Sunday morning. Clearing Sunday afternoon. High today and Sunday in the 30s and low 40s. Low tonight 25-35. Winds southerly 10-20.

Mohawk Valley, Western Catskills:

Light snow this morning, likely becoming mixed with rain before changing to rain this forenoon. Rain into tonight then changing to snow flurries and ending by Sunday morning. Clearing during Sunday. High today and Sunday mainly in the 30s and lower 40s. Low tonight 25-35. Winds mostly southerly and southwesterly, 10-20.

Northeastern New York:

Light snow likely changing to a mixture of rain and snow and possibly rain later today. Snow flurries tonight ending early Sunday. Clearing Sunday afternoon. High today and Sunday in the 30s. Low tonight 25 - 32. Winds southerly and southwesterly 10-20.

Earnings, Sales, Revenues Gain Is C-H Report

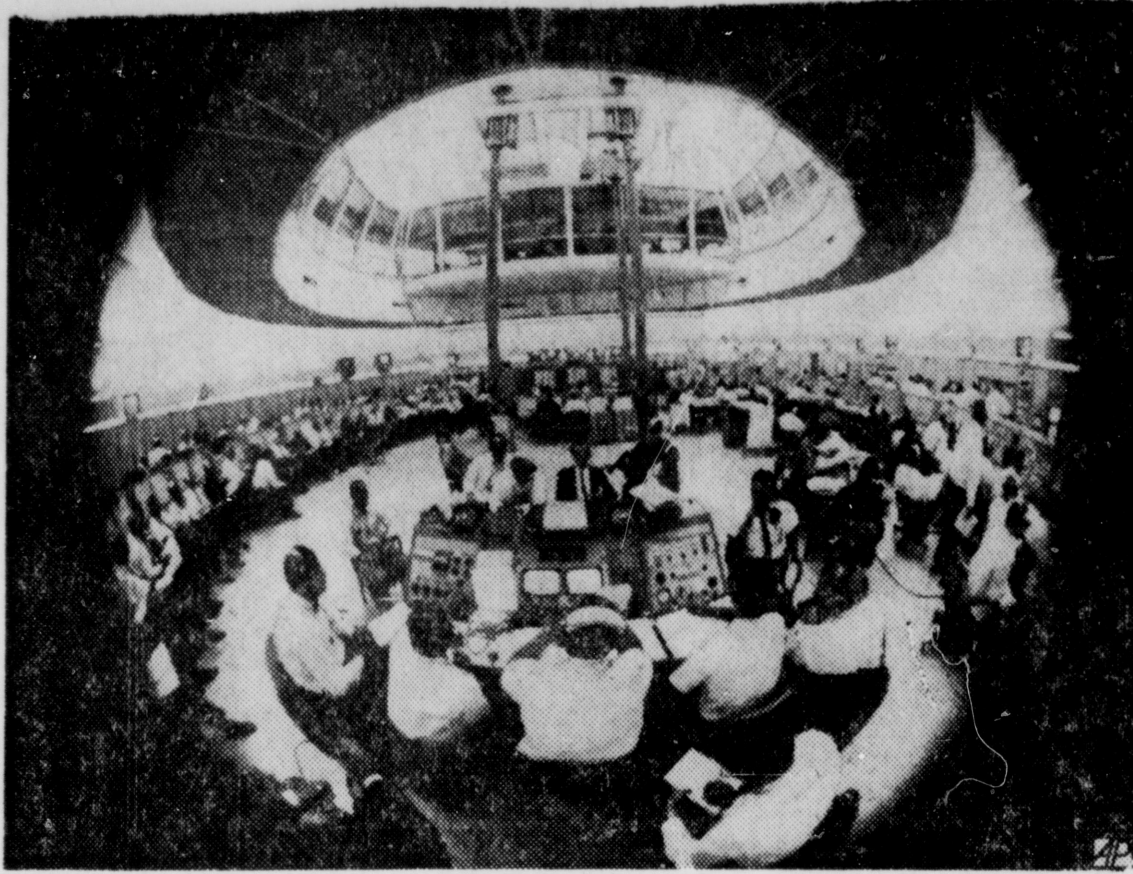

Increased earnings, sales and revenues were reported today by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation in its preliminary financial report for 1963.

The preliminary figures place the company's net income at $6,703,337, up $251,253, or 4 per cent, over 1962. On a per share basis the earnings are equivalent to $1.70 on the 3,970,073 shares outstanding at year-end as compared to $1.63 on the same number of shares in 1962.

In their report to Central Hudson's 18,400 common shareholders, Chairman of the Board Ernest R. Acker and President Lelan F. Sillin Jr. cite the company's "success in controlling costs and effecting economies" as major contributing factors in the favorable financial results for the year. Operating revenue deductions, including the costs of operation, maintenance, depreciation and taxes, were only two per cent higher than in 1962 and the costs of coal used in generating electricity were actually reduced five per cent despite increased electric generation to meet increased sales. State and local taxes were up by 9 per cent to $4,630,390 and Federal income taxes rose by 6 per cent to $3,820,400.

Sales and revenues continued to climb in 1963 to all but industrial customers. Industrial electric revenues were slightly lower than the previous year due to reduced sales to the region's cement companies whose production was sharply decreased in 1963.

During the year the company's total dividend payments per share amounted to $1.09. The present quarterly rate is 28 cents per share, up from 27 cents for each of the four quarters prior to last November.

Baby Crop Still Explosive Figure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid declining birth rates, the United States still has a baby crop of over 4 million a year, say the population experts.

And the future is so potentially fertile they dread to think about it.

The U.S. Public Health Service reported this week that November yielded only 327,000 babies to Americans, the lowest November since 1953.

Declines Since 1957

The Population Reference Bureau says the birth rate has declined some 14 per cent since 1957.

But these figures hardly tell the story. The postwar baby boom is about to bring its multitude of offspring into the marrying years. A girl born in 1957 is 17 years old this year.

Impressive Prospect

The prospect of what this could mean to the U.S. population in terms of growth is impressive. Even with fewer babies per mother, there will be many more mothers, hence many more babies.

For instance, there were 11 million women in their 20s, the prime reproductive age, in 1960. By 1970, there will be 15 million women in this age group says the Population Reference Bureau. By 1980, 20 million.

If U.S. women have the 3.1 children they currently seem to plan on, it could push the U.S. population to 249 million by 1980, to 344 million by the year 2000, and to over a billion by year 2065.

Secret Talks, Of Course

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Association of School Administrators discussed the question of secret societies in high schools at a meeting here. The meeting was secret.

Contract Awarded To Walker Valley Firm

WALKER VALLEY — Photonics Corporation has received a Government research and development contract for High Speed EL-PC Circuitry. The contract was issued by Rome Air Development Center of the Air Force. The contract is for $68,038.00 for work extending over a 12-month period.

Photonics Corporation announced in the spring of 1963 a new high-speed photo-conductive material. The Company also manufactures special motors for use in high vacuum systems.

Graham May Run For President, News Chain Says

NEW YORK (AP) — The Scripps - Howard Newspapers said Friday that evangelist Billy Graham may run for president.

"Despite his frequent denials, he is giving 'earnest and prayerful consideration' to the idea," Scripps-Howard said in a dispatch from Houston, Tex. The dispatch quoted Graham, in Houston for a meeting, as saying:

"I am not interested in seeking public office."

It said the key word was "seeking" — that he would not seek the office by announcing himself as a candidate, but that he might in certain circumstances accept a draft.

"If he accepted such a draft, it would be as a Republican," the story said.

In Mouston, Graham said he might have some comment on the story Tuesday or Wednesday.

Oldest Theater Closes Tonight

BALTIMORE (AP) — The faded, crimson curtains close for the last time at Ford's tonight as the 92-year-old theater bows out to make room for a parking lot.

The rickety stage which once held the greatest Shakespearians will have the road company of the rowdy "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" to preside over its demise.

About 1,800 persons are expected to join the ancient theater for the farewell performance and to "shed some official tears," as Mayor Theodore McKeldin put it.

Billed as the oldest theater in active use in the country, Ford's officially opened Oct. 3, 1871, with a production of Shakespeare's "As You Like It," starring James W. Wallack.

Ford's Opera House was patterned after the Booth Theater in New York and built by John T. Ford, who also owned the Ford Theater in Washington where President Lincoln was assassinated.

Trucker Fined $100, Vehicle Overloaded

Michael Perry, 50, of East Chester Street By-pass, charged last Oct. 10 with driving a vehicle overloaded on consecutive axles, was found guilty after city court trial Friday.

City Judge Joseph D. Saccomanno gave him the choice of a 10-day jail sentence or paying a $100 fine. The fine was paid.

It was charged that the truck when observed on Emerson Street, Kingston, carried an overweight load. The charge was lodged by State Trooper William Cameron.

Attorney William Curran appeared for Perry and Robert A. MacKinnon for the district attorney's office.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Corporation profits rolled in at a booming rate in 1963.

This was evident during the week as many major companies reported big increases in earnings over 1962.

The once familiar cry of "profit squeeze" was heard only occasionally.

Dillon Optimistic

The surge in profits was expected to carry over into 1964 at an unabated pace.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon was particularly optimistic about the outlook.

"We ought to be able to move ahead steadily through this year and have one of the best years we have had, and that ought to continue into next year," he said.

"It looks like we will have three or four years of improvement, which is the best we have had in peacetime—ever."

His forecast was conditioned on passage of the $11-billion tax-cut bill which may be enacted by Congress next week.

The profit parade was led by General Motors Corp., the world's biggest manufacturer, which in 1963 had the highest earnings and sales of any corporation in history.

The No. 1 automaker earned $1,592,000,000 or $5.56 a share, on sales of $16.5 billion. The previous record was $1.52 billion by American Telephone & Telegraph Co. in the year ended last Nov. 30.

All Auto Firms Gain

All of the major auto companies have reported higher earnings for 1963.

It was a good year, too, for the steel industry. The top producer, U.S. Steel Corp., earned $202,913,826, or $3.28 a share, against $163,639,817, or $2.56 a share, in 1962. However, Chairman Roger Blough said the percentage of profit to sales wasn't satisfactory.

Bethlehem, Jones & Loughlin, National Steel, Armco, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Pittsburgh Steel also came in with favorable earnings reports.

Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) entered for the first time the select circle of companies with profit of $1 billion or more. The company earned $1,015,000,000 or $4.68 a share, up from $840,900,000, or $3.88 a share, in 1962.

The cost of living took an unusual step higher in December. It was only the third time in the last 10 years that the consumer price index had risen in December.

The Labor Department said higher vegetable and sugar prices were mainly responsible.

Robinson Quits Coffey Post for Rocky's Campaign

By ROBERT T. GRAY

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is sharpening his differences with President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater in an accelerating political campaign that is ranging from coast to coast.

Rockefeller's forum is one that his campaign aides claim is paying rich dividends in his bid for the Republican nomination for president—the question and answer period after his formal speeches.

The governor used this approach Friday night in a campaign trip to Nashua, N.H., and in a visit to California earlier this week. He plans to do the same in a campaign visit to Oregon next week.

In another development concerning the Rockefeller campaign, Jackie Robinson, the first Negro to break into major-league baseball, resigned as a top executive of the Chock Full O' Nuts coffee and restaurant company to join the Rockefeller campaign organization.

Earnings, Sales, Revenues Gain Is C-H Report

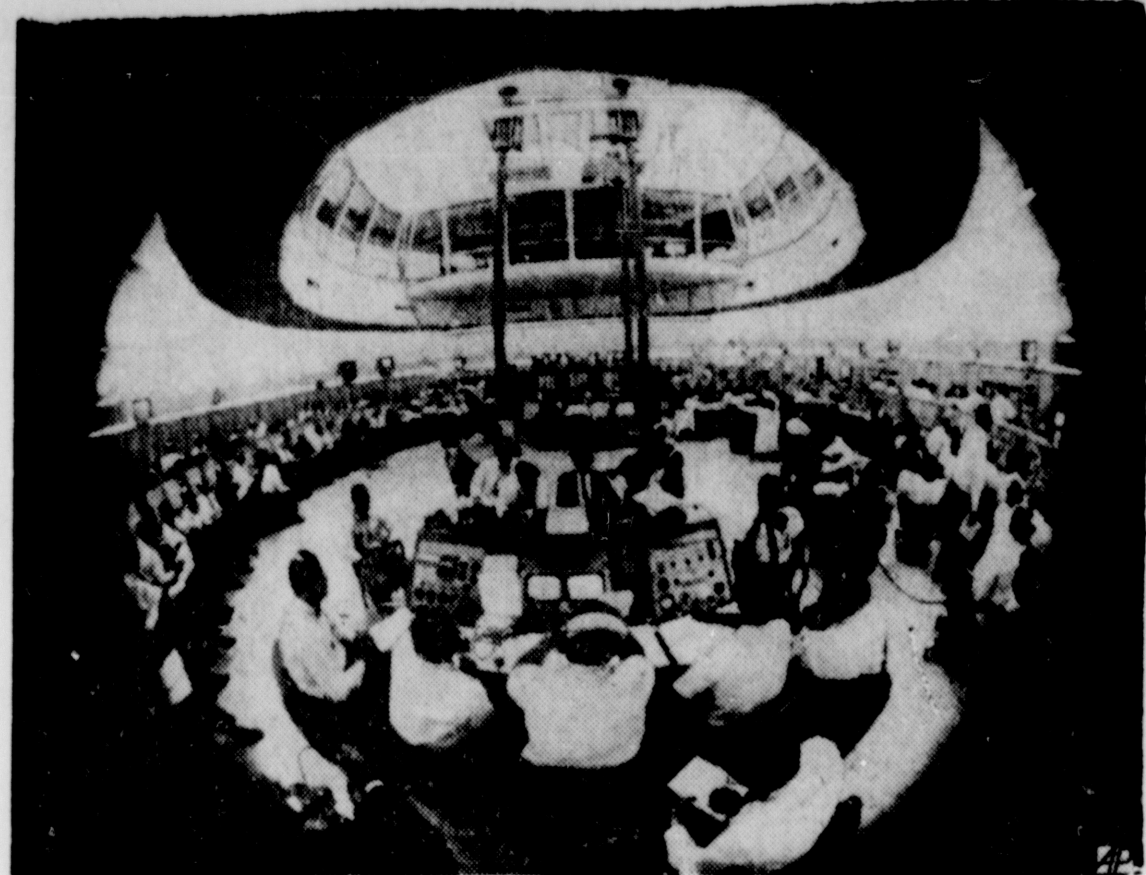

Increased earnings, sales and revenues were reported today by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation in its preliminary financial report for 1963.

The preliminary figures place the company's net income at $6,703,337, up $251,253, or 4 per cent, over 1962. On a per share basis the earnings are equivalent to $1.70 on the 3,270,073 shares outstanding at year-end as compared to $1.63 on the same number of shares in 1962.

In their report to Central Hudson's 18,400 common shareholders, Chairman of the Board Ernest R. Acker and President Lelan F. Sillin Jr. cite the company's "success in controlling costs and effecting economies" as major contributing factors in the favorable financial results for the year. Operating revenue deductions, including the costs of operation, maintenance, depreciation and taxes, were only two per cent higher than in 1962 and the costs of coal used in generating electricity were actually reduced five per cent despite increased electric generation to meet increased sales. State and local taxes were up by 9 per cent to $4,630,390 and Federal Income taxes rose by 6 per cent to $3,820,400.

Sales and revenues continued to climb in 1963 to all but industrial customers. Industrial electric revenues were slightly lower than the previous year due to reduced sales to the region's cement companies whose production was sharply decreased in 1963.

During the year the company's total dividend payments per share amounted to $1.09. The present quarterly rate is 28 cents per share, up from 27 cents for each of the four quarters prior to last November.

Baby Crop Still Explosive Figure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid declining birth rates, the United States still has a baby crop of over 4 million a year, say the population experts.

And the future is so potentially fertile they dread to think about it.

The U.S. Public Health Service reported this week that November yielded only 327,000 babies to Americans, the lowest November since 1953.

Declines Since 1957
The Population Reference Bureau says the birth rate has declined some 14 per cent since 1957.

But these figures hardly tell the story. The postwar baby boom is about to bring its multitude of offspring into the marrying years. A girl born in 1957 is 17 years old this year.

Impressive Prospect
The prospect of what this could mean to the U.S. population in terms of growth is impressive. Even with fewer babies per mother, there will be many more mothers, hence many more babies.

For instance, there were 11 million women in their 20s, the prime reproductive age, in 1960. By 1970, there will be 15 million women in this age group says the Population Reference Bureau. By 1980, 20 million.

If U.S. women have the 3.1 children they currently seem to plan on, it could push the U.S. population to 249 million by 1980, to 344 million by the year 2000, and to over a billion by year 2065.

Contract Awarded To Walker Valley Firm

WALKER VALLEY — Photonics Corporation has received a Government research and development contract for High Speed EL-PC Circuitry. The contract was issued by Rome Air Development Center of the Air Force. The contract is for $68,035.00 for work extending over a 12-month period.

Photonics Corporation announced in the spring of 1963 a new high-speed photo-conductive material. The Company also manufactures special motors for use in high vacuum systems.

Graham May Run For President, News Chain Says

NEW YORK (AP) — The Scripps - Howard Newspapers said Friday that evangelist Billy Graham may run for president.

"Despite his frequent denials, he is giving 'earnest and prayerful consideration' to the idea," Scripps-Howard said in a dispatch from Houston, Tex. The dispatch quoted Graham, in Houston for a meeting, as saying:

"I am not interested in seeking public office."

It said the key word was "seeking" — that he would not seek the office by announcing himself as a candidate, but that he might in certain circumstances accept a draft.

"If he accepted such a draft, it would be as a Republican," the story said.

In Mouston, Graham said he might have some comment on the story Tuesday or Wednesday.

Oldest Theater Closes Tonight

BALTIMORE (AP) — The faded, crimson curtains close for the last time at Ford's tonight as the 92-year-old theater bows out to make room for a parking lot.

The rickety stage which once held the greatest Shakespeareans will have the road company of the rowdy "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" to preside over its demise.

About 1,800 persons are expected to jam the ancient theater for the farewell performance and to "shed some official tears," as Mayor Theodore McKeldin put it.

Billed as the oldest theater in active use in the country, Ford's officially opened Oct. 3, 1871, with a production of Shakespeare's "As You Like It," starring James W. Wallack.

Ford's Opera House was patterned after the Booth Theater in New York and built by John T. Ford, who also owned the Ford Theater in Washington where President Lincoln was assassinated.
